BACK PARKING STUDY AND HOSPITAL FOR AREA

The Editor's column

by S. R. PADDOCK

This newspaper bowed to the votes cast at the recent Arlington Heights municipal election and went on record against industry in Arlington Heights.

It was awful medicine for us to swallow, and we hope we will not be called a traitor to "our conversion" if we pass on to our readers a statement made last week by the head of one of the largest "chains" operating in this area. He said:

"The careful bond investor avoids communities that do not have industry within their borders. The bond market gives preference to issues of taxing bodies with a reserve of assessed valuation. Today, few of non-industry areas are so situated."

He added: "America is normally a country of people who work and like it. That is why industry is so important. It is the foundation of our country's wealth, and its good schools, churches and active community life."

We hope that the Arlington Heights village board will welcome an expected offer from a Lions club committee to aid in solving the parking problem.

The need for parking space is a lot greater than it was three months ago. A survey shows today that a young city has sprung into being in the past six months on Arlington Heights' far north side.

Two other young cities are in the making within a half mile of the center of the business district. Unless remedial measures are taken at once, some investor in commercial projects will give birth to a new shopping center within shopping distance of Arlington residents who can't find a place to park in the present business district of Arlington Heights.

One prominent businessman who has in the past been labeled with the "no-parking-meter" group, told us this week, "I am ready to have parking meters, if no other way can be found to finance the needed parking lots."

Last week's paper tells us that a "38 parallel" has been established at the southern boundaries of Arlington Heights by the action of the state legislature in extending the Chicago Drainage district domain to Rolling Meadows.

That vacant farm land will not be there much longer. The growth of the village corporate limits will stop at the Sanitary district boundary. With sewage facilities available, there will be one less reason why its residents will ask for municipal annexation.

It is our belief that the organization of a Little League in Arlington Heights should have the support and encouragement of every adult. Boys kept busy playing baseball will have no time to be candidates for juvenile delinquency.

The best part of the program is that the plan includes the extension of the baseball age for boys from first and second grades on to high school.

The organization of a Little League in Arlington Heights will do a lot in building the right kind of manhood among our young boys.

This column apologizes to the women, espceially the 18-year old ones. No man of that age could have so pointedly taken to task an editor as the 18 year old young lady who sent the following:

So you never could understand why our forefathers decided we were three years smarter than men! Oh, Man, how dumb can you appear?

The forefathers who decided women were 3 years smarter than men had observed from experience and reasoning that it was so — and the 1953 fathers know better than to change the law because it would only prove how very much smarter than 3 years the women of to-day are over the men of to-day.

Wake up, POP, acknowledge it's true, give woman credit where credit is due. Any man who can think straight (and too many can't) well knows that if the men gave the women equal credit for their abilities, judgments, vision, etc. the women would so far excell the men in every branch of business, government, politics, etc. that the men would have to take back seats (where many of them belong) and thereby the men would be forever playing the 2nd fiddle (which they do now really) in our civic affairs.

Women are so smart they let the men have the credit for being the smarter, so the death of their ego won't kill them.

You men have been so sure you were THE great I AM in the world that the women just haven't the heart to hurt your little boy feelings by asserting themselves and their superior intellect, so they just let you think you are as smart as you feel you are — and they can get along easier with men like you who never could understand why our forefathers decided that women were 3 years smarter than me. By now Smarty Pants.

From an 18 year old woman who knows how the 21 year old men of to-day act and think.

Lift Ban on Sprinkling

Residents Warned To Stop For One Hour If Fire Siren Blows

The sprinkling ban has been lifted in Arlington Heights. This good news was revealed by Trustee Robert Bishop at the village board meeting Tuesday night.

There is one stipulation, however, when residents hear the fire siren they are asked to stop sprinkling immediately and to refrain from sprinkling for one hour after the siren has blown. This precaution must be taken to assure plenty of pressure in the tank in the event of a fire.

Work on the new pump station is progressing. A & E general contractors, which is erecting the station, was granted $4,169.14 additional compensation due to the delay caused them in completing their part of the well contract. Originally they had asked for $11,915.95 over the contract price, but the village had its engineers figure out what they thought would be a fair compensation and they arrived at the $4,169.14 figure.

TRUSTEES RICHARD Bronwell and William Luehring voted "No" on this increase, while Trustees Robert Bishop, Edward Carlisle and Charles Rehfeldt voted "Yes." Trustee David Zimmerman was absent at this point.

The board moved to accept the offer of a $100 scholarship from the All State Insurance company to send one of the local police officers to the Northwestern University Traffic school for three weeks. The police are to pick the man they desire to attend and submit his name for board approval. The officer attending will be paid his regular salary while at the school, but transportation expenses must be borne by him. The officer will be expected to pass on to the other policemen on the force what he learns at the school.

No driver's license tests will be given at the village hall until further notice. Those having to take tests must go to the secretary of state's office at 334 S. Ashland, Chicago. Phone SEeley 8-0800.

Boy, 8, Breaks Leg In Auto-Bike Accident

Richard Corn, 8, of 826 N. Kennicot, Arlington Heights, is in Great Lakes Naval hospital today, with a broken right leg, two crushed fingertips on his right hand, scraped elbow and a bump on the head.

He was injured in an accident Monday afternoon, while riding his bicycle along west Elm st. The accident occurred when Sophie E. Stevens, Rt. 2, Box 264, Arlington Heights, traveling south on Chestnut, did not see the bike and hit it with the front left fender and bumper of her auto.

Issue Warning Against Use Of BB Guns

Lyla Nawrot, 4, of 216 N. Hickory st., Arlington Heights, was hit just below the eye with a stray shot from a BB gun last week. It was discovered when the little girl complained of a "sliver" below her eye and her parents took her to a doctor who found the BB.

Chief of Police Carl H. Skoog is issuing a warning against the use of BB guns in Arlington Heights. "This accident was a near tragedy. Next time someone might lose an eye. We don't want a next time."

Parents are warned not to let their children play with BB guns unless they are with them, and even then their use should be confined to ones own property.

Mosquito Abatement Or No Mosquito Abatement — That Is The Question

The village dads were in a quandary Tuesday night as to whether or not to continue the mosquito abatement program in Arlington Heights.

Many pros and cons have been heard on the subject, but the village wants to know from the residents whether or not the three sprayings to date have made any difference in the mosquito "activity" in the village.

At $440 a fogging the village does not want to waste money if the residents feel the mosquitoes are still plentiful in the village. The fogging is done only on north and south streets, and the wind carries the fog to the east and west areas. There are a few areas the truck cannot reach because there are no accessible roads along which to bring the spraying equipment.

Residents are asked to mail postcards, DO NOT TELEPHONE, to Carl Weinrich, Village Clerk's Office, 7 W. Davis, Arlington Heights, and state whether or not they want the spraying to continue. If the majority of the village feels the spraying has not been satisfactory the village will have them stopped.

Big Parade To Highlight VFW Festival July 26

Big plans are now underway for the annual festival of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 981, Arlington Heights, which will be held at Recreation Park, July 22-26.

Outstanding feature of this year's festival will be the mamouth parade on Sunday afternoon, July 26, which will consist of championship drum and bugle corps from all over the country. Following the parade a contest exhibition will be held, in which all the drum and bugle corps will participate.

DR. BENJAMIN Mach, president of the National Drum and Bugle Corps Association, will be in charge of the contest. Dr. Mach has acted as bandmaster, judge, or director of many national drum and bugle contests and is outstanding in his field. During World War I he served as an intelligence officer in the army and was stationed in France.

Lutheran Home Festival Sunday In Arlington

The annual festival of the Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged, Arlington Heights, will be held Sunday, July 12.

Outdoor divine services on the Home grounds, will be held in German at 10:30 a.m. Rev. J. E. A. Mueller, pastor of St. Paul Lutheran church, Mount Prospect, will be the speaker. The English service will be held at 3 p.m. with Rev. Henry Blanke, pastor of St. John Lutheran church in Chicago, as speaker. The guest soloist will be Mrs. Edwin Eckert.

THE FANCY goods booth will contain hand-sewn fancy goods which will include quilts, rugs, toys, doll wardrobes, aprons, pillow cases, and many other beautiful items. A white elephant booth will feature odds and ends of all descriptions.

The nearly completed new Lutheran Home, which will be dedicated October 11, will be the main attraction for the many loyal friends of this worthy project. The new building will be open for those who wish to tour through the modern structure. A large honor roll with the names of donors who contribute to the building fund will occupy a place of honor at this annual festival.

The Old Folks Home extends an invitation to its many friends to reserve July 12 for a visit to the Home.

Start Building And Improvements In Westgate

Construction has started in Arlington Heights on the first 53 homes in Westgate Subdivision, the north boundary of which is Euclid ave. These are the forerunners of 638 homes, planned by the Sullivan Construction Co., which has taken out the permits. The tract extends south to Kirchhoff rd. and from Wilke rd. (race track) to Dwyer st., comprising 209 acres.

A check for over $42,000 was turned over to the village by the developers Tuesday morning as payment for the installation of a double sewer and water mains system for the area that will be first developed.

Each home will be ranch type with three bedrroms and 95 per cent of them will have basements. Each will have face brick on all sides with stone trim.

Prices will range from $17,000 to $19,000, with down payments of $3,400 to $4,100. Financing will be with federal housing administration insured loans made through Great Lake Mortgage corporation, Chicago, and Oak Park Federal Savings and Loan association.

The completed development will represent a total investment of about 15 million dollars, said Robert Hines, secretary of the Sullivan Construction company.

Two Men Killed in Auto-Truck Collision

At 1:15 a.m. Wednesday an accident on Rand rd., near Central, Mt. Prospect, proved fatal to Joseph Getman, 41, of 4830 West 15th st., Cicero, and John Fiecko, 43, of 4305 W. Kammerling, Chicago.

Fiekos' car swerved to miss hitting a barricade and struck a truck driven by Willis Justensen, 143 Craig ave., Madison, Wisconsin.

Cook County Police officer Tatsch received a report from Justensen that his truck was traveling West on No. 12 when the car swerved in front of him. After the impact he lost control of his truck and collided into a telephone pole.

Dr. Heller of Des Plaines pronounced them dead.

Postmaster Suggests Use of Post Office For Dispatch of Mail

"Considerable dissatisfaction has been voiced concerning the article appearing on the front page of this paper June 18 requesting the residents to use the collection boxes instead of mailing their letters at the post office," states Postmaster Virginia Dodge. "The post office is new, large, and ample for present needs. Anyone realizes that letters may be posted in the office at a later time than on the street and be dispatched on the very next helicopter or truck."

The postmaster adds that dispatches are made at 8:15 a.m., 2:30 p.m., and 5:30 p.m. They connect with three trucks and three helicopters daily. Mrs. Dodge says she realizes the village faces a parking problem, but she does not think that is any reason for them to request through the medium of the Herald that the local residents refrain from coming to the local post office.

It was during a parking discussion at a recent village board meeting that an alderman suggested the greater use of the collection boxes.

The drivers of the trucks, both local and transport, will appreciate the citizens permitting the private driveway leading to the rear of the post office to remain open at all times. Parking is not permitted in this driveway at any time, but citizens who complain most about mail delays insist upon parking their private cars in this driveway any time of the day.

Law Violators 'Pay-Up' At Traffic Court

Monday night traffic court in Arlington Heights, under the direction of Judge William Neumann, was well filled with violators who came to pay their fines. The new stop signs erected at Euclid and Douglas and Central and Dunton had not been heeded by several of the violators, who were fined from $7 to $10 each.

One youth was fined $25 and costs for driving while under the influence of liquor, and another youth was fined the same for driving 60 miles an hour in a 30 mile/ an hour zone and for passing on a hill.

Five Mexicans were fined $25 and costs, and one $28 and costs, for disorderly conduct at the carnival.

Arlington Lions Adopt Six Point Program Of Community Projects

Members of Arlington Heights Lions club approved Tuesday night a six point program of civic projects that the organization thinks needs doing. The adoption of the extensive program will keep this Lions club busy for a long time.

"All of the goals," said President Quentin Ford, "can not be realized unless the projects are popular with the public and it receives support of other organizations and elective officials."

Project No. 1 is the solution of the parking problem that has been before village boards the past ten years.

SECOND ON THE LIST is the promotion of a hospital. Then follows in order named, medical center, community center, Little League and a YMCA.

Lion Barney Erickson was appointed chairman of a special parking committee with Lion W. Poole and Harold Hastings as members. The special committee has been surveying the parking problem and will report to the Civic Improvement and Community Betterment Committee for further action.

The Lions club hopes to aid in the solving of the parking problem. It has no intention to supplant any other organization, group or individual, working on this project. The Lions only desire is to support and assist in arriving at a solution of a parking problem that has faced Arlington Heights many years.

When parking is well on its way to a solution, the Lions club will then start to work on a community hospital, if that problem is still of prime importance.

PROJECT NO. 5, "Little League," is already well on the way and may become the first to be completed. The Lions have voted $200 towards its formation.

Contemplate 287 More Homes For Arlington

"Operation - Building" continues in Arlington Heights. The village board was informed Tuesday night that the Raymond L. Lutgert construction company desires to develop a 72-acre tract of land located north of Oakton and east of Wilke, bounded on the east by Yale ave. and the north by Thomas ave.

A tentative plat was submitted to the board, which turned it over to the plan commission for study. If the subdivision is approved it will contain approximately 287 homes on lots 66 feet wide and 123 feet deep, and will probably sell from $16,500 up. The proposed homes will be of the ranch type, with no basements.

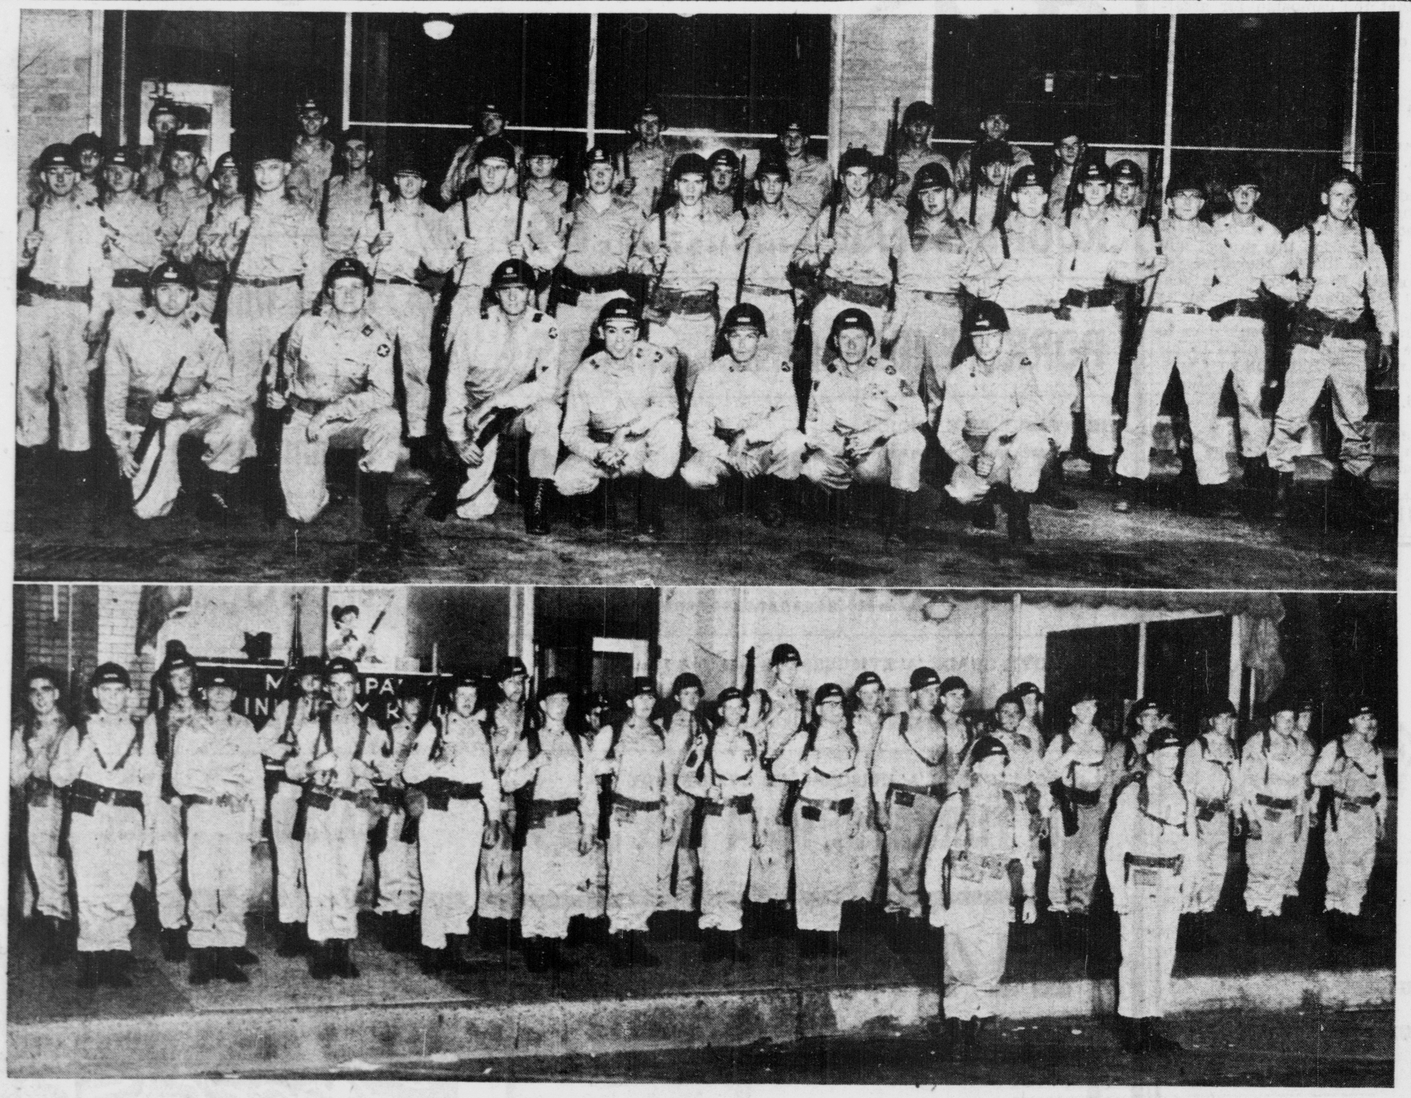
E. L. TRENDEL appeared before the board to find out why 11 permits for homes he planned to build were rejected by the architectural committee. He was told that they did not fit in architecturally with the surrounding homes in some cases, and that he had already constructed several homes similar to the ones he sought permits for in one of the areas. He was referred to the architectural committee to iron out the difficulties.

Two new men were hired on six months probation to work at the sewage treatment plant. They are Vincent Weidner, 1135 N. Dunton and Robert Harth, 544 S. Highland. They will receive $4,200 a year.

The village is advertising for bids this week for a speaker system for the council chambers. Such a system is needed because the accoustics in the hall are very poor. The bids will be opened July 21.

Hughes' Experience In Greece, Turkey Appears Next Week

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hughes, who have just returned from a year spent in Greece and a trip into Turkey, were in Arlington Heights this week. Calling at the office of Paddock Publications, Mr. Hughes was interviewed. Story of some of his experiences will appear in next week's issue on page one of section four. Mr Hughes was Cook County farm adviser many years. It was as an agricultural extension agent that he went to Greece.



Local boys who are members of headquarters company, Palatine, and M company, Arlington Heights, of the Illinois national guard left by bus Friday night for Camp Ripley, Minn., for their annual 15 days of summer field training. A heavy program of training with time out for recreation is on the schedule.

One of the training highlights will be a combined firepower demonstration to be staged for the entire troop complement on Saturday, July 11. This demonstration is especially designed to give the individual guardsman an insight into the equipment available to an infantry division. The demonstration will feature all the weapons and supporting equipment in the division. Each piece of equipment or weapon will be displayed individually and then used or fired simultaneously in order that the effect may be witnessed by the assembled 7,000 men.

Sunday, July 12, will be the annual governor's day on which the governor of the state of Illinois traditionally reviews his guard. Honored visitors this week-end will include in addition to representatives of the press, Governor Stratton, persons prominent in industry, public officials, and a number of consul representatives of foreign countries.

Local guardsmen left their armories Friday armed with guns and rations for the period before chow would be ready for them at Camp Ripley.

Police Get 'The Book' On July Fourth Week End

Accidents, fights, stolen bikes, stray dogs (and horse) and fires kept the Arlington Heights police department on their toes since the first of July.

Among the several auto accidents were two that involved 3 cars each. The first occurred July 3 at the intersection of Vail and Northwest hwy. Donna Jean Zinkel, 1305 N. Dunton, was stopped for light when Margaret I. Christensen, Rand and Foundry rd., Mount Prospect, attempted to make a left hand turn and ran into the Zinkel car. The impact pushed the Zinkel auto into another car stopped for the light. It was owned by Malbo Bellow, 18 N. Greely, Palatine. Mrs. Christensen admitted to the police that her steering mechanism was not working properly.

THE HOOD, grill and bumper of the Zinkel auto was damaged, and the whole front end of the Christensen auto was wrecked. The Bellow car was damaged on the bumper.

July 4th Muriel Swift, 5711 N. Talman, Chicago, was stopped for traffic at Yale and Northwest hwy., when her auto was hit in the rear by Erell F. Richter, 4935 N. Western ave., Chicago. Richter's car was then hit in the rear by Charles Huzsek, 814 Harding, Chicago. The entire front end and rear bumper of the Richter auto was damaged, and the entire front end of the Huzsek auto was wrecked, while only the back bumper of the Swift auto was damaged.

A second July 4th accident occurred at Douglas and Kensington rds., where two cars sideswiped. No serious damage resulted.

The fire department was called to the new Lattof Chevrolet garage being constructed on E. Northwest hwy., July 1, where "fireproof" insulation was found burning. It is believed the fire started from combustion.

A second fire, July 2, occurred along the Chicago and North Western railroad tracks on E. Northwest hwy. Weeds burned for nearly a mile along the embankment.

SEVERAL "brawls" occurred at the carnival in Recreation park, one resulting in the arrest of 12 Mexicans. Eight of them were booked for disorderly conduct and were released on $25 bonds. They were to appear in police court Monday night. Two of the Mexicans had also been involved in an auto accident.

Don Jorgensen, 18, of 2620 Attrill ave., Chicago, was found lying on a lawn at 806 S. Dunton. He had been involved in a fight at the carnival and was headed for a friend's house on S. Ridge, when he passed out from injuries. Dr. Robert Muench who examined the lad, said he was suffering from a slight concussion due to a blow on the head.

Charles J. Walters, 15, received a blow on the lower left jaw from an angry patron at the carnival. The patron was drinking rain water off the roof of one of the tents and the Walters boy remarked about it to a friend. The patron asked him what he said and when the boy replied, "Nothing," he struck him.

Several bikes were also stolen at the park during the Fourth of July activities, and one resident notified police his car had been broken into during the fireworks display and a portable Philco radio stolen. One of the bikes stolen was recovered.

THE POLICE and inhalator squad assisted Robert Sloan, 39, of Broadway Stables, who suffered a heart attack at the bus stop at Dunton ave., July 4. He was taken to Hines hospital.

Don Hartmann of Lauterburg and Oehler reported to the police July 2 that he took Sigfried Pobian of 3644 N. Hermitage, Chicago, who was working on the construction of the new Old Folks home, to the hospital July 2. The man had injured his leg in a hoist.

Other calls taken care of by the police included numerous stray dog reports, two dog bite cases, and a stray horse, which was returned to its owner in the 1300 block on N. Dunton.

THE NEW officers who will direct Jaycee activities during the coming year are: Ted Seiler, president; Eugene Oliver, vice-president; Milo Schroeder, vice-president; Bill Hull, treasurer; Bill Frederickson, secretary. Stan Dalley and Ed Merges are new members of the board of directors. They will be aided by John Dunham and Don Weber, both of whom have one more year to serve. Past president Bruno Waara now becomes an ex-officio member of the board.

Eugene Oliver, former membership chairman and only recently initiated as a Jaycee, was presented with the key man award. The award was made on the basis of Oliver's excellent service to the chapter. Through his untiring efforts the membership of the group has been doubled in the past several months.

Bob LeForge will continue as state director; Russell Bramwell will hold the new office of recruiting chairman; Larry Klein will act as chapter historian. "Scotchlite" chairmen, Bill Hull and Ray Martin, announced that the campaign for greater automobile safety through the use of a five-foot strip of reflective tape on the rear bumper will be continued on a door-to-door canvass basis. By this method the Jaycees hope to bring this nationally acclaimed safety measure to every citizen in the area. The five-foot strip costs only $1.00 and is highly recommended by police chief Carl Skoog. The chief has had his squad cars equipped with Scotchlite. Funds from this project will be used to further the drive for a hospital in the area. The hospital campaign is already in its initial stage.

Any citizen who would like to have "Scotchlite" applied to his car may call Bill Hull at CL 3-6280 or Ray Martin at CL. 3-1676.

He who receives a benefit with gratitude, repays the first installment on his debt.

We have one of those king-size beds and I know I wouldn't like to have to turn that mattress. You can see these mattresses made by Englander and U. S. Rubber Co. at Arlington Furniture Mart on S. Tell him about the Squire Shop on Northwest hwy. in Palatine, for in one stop he can get his hair cut in their newly equipped barber shop and he can buy everything he needs in the way of men's clothing and accessories. The new South school is located at Park and Mitchell and the other school, known as Ridge school, is located in the Arlington Ridge subdivision, in the northwest section of the village. Equipment to furnish both schools is on order and will arrive in time to be installed in the schools in time for opening this fall. Palatine's John McKee Picked for Boys' Nation

Arlington Resident Member Grand Jury

Walter Sundblad, Route 1, Box 207, Arlington Heights, a plant superintendent, is a member of the July grand jury, which has 13 members from Chicago and 10 from the suburbs. It is the first grand jury to receive the Chicago Crime Commission pamphlet outlining the powers and duties of the jury.

Also it is the first county investigating body to be equipped with two new state laws, passed in the latest session of the state legislature. One is the new perjury law under which the state now only has to prove that a witness gave conflicting testimony under oath on separate occasions. Penalties are 1 to 14 years if convicted. Previously, the state had to prove which statement was false testimony.

The other new power is the right of a grand jury to grant immunity to witnesses. The law provides that a witness may not be prosecuted on the basis of information he gives in grand jury testimony about a crime he was involved in.

TV NEWS

by Don Hager

Television entertainment has a special ingredient that sets it apart from most entertainment . . . from movies, night clubs and theatre stages. What is this ingredient? Well, TV is more personal. In a way the set owner acts as host or hostess and invites the TV performer into his home. Where the set owner has a choice of channels, he can invite someone else in (on another station) when he doesn't like an act.

An illustration of this is shown on Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town." The "unsmiling Irishman" thought he had a good idea in his practice of inserting motion picture film previews as part of his variety show, but he's dropping the whole thing. As Ed says, "Both my mail and the mail of the factory have been running about 50% against films and in favor of live personalities. That's enough for me."

There are a lot of good films on TV . . . but on the variety shows, the "live shows," the TViewers don't want films they want performers . . . people they can invite into their homes to perform for them. You can be sure of top performance when you buy a quality set whose name you know, like Dumont, Motorola, or Capehart TV . . . and when you buy from a servicing dealer, who can assure you of expert installation . . . New Fiction: "Westward the Sun" by Geoffrey Cotterell. This is Linda Ferrers' story; a fresh, vital, humorous story, absolutely authentic in its knowing picture of a contemporary London girl.

"The Lost Shepherd" by Agnes Sanford. Paul Forrester is the minister at the church of All Saints in the small city of Mapleton, where he experiences all the trials that beset a young clergyman.

"The Long Way Round" by Pat Frank. Pat Frank was offered an assignment in Korea; at its completion, he was advised to go home the long way round through Turkey. This is the story of what he saw and what he thought.

NEW MYSTERY: "The Iron Cobweb" by Ursula Curtiss. Here is a vivid story of a woman caught in the iron cobweb of fear.

Non-fiction: "Jung's Psychology and its Social Meaning" by Ira Progoff. The main purpose of this book is to facilitate the process of integrating Jung's concepts into the mainstream of contemporary thought. (This book is part of the H. J. Kehe Memorial Book Fund.)

"Simplified Architectural Drawing" by T. C. Buss, Jr. This book is written to fill the gap between instruction pertaining to mechanical drawing and that pertaining to architectural design. (From the H. J. Kehe Memorial Book Fund)

"Cinderella With the Wooden Slippers" by Raymond F. Keller. Here is a true story of a lovely Dutch girl, brought to the United States by the author, an official of the United States Rubber Company, and his wife. Interspersed in this record of a girl's discovery of America are portions of Maria's letters from Holland and extracts from her American diaries.

Put your Ford in "Trip-top" shape

"Travelize" your Ford now! You'll save time and money.

● A vacation trip is one time when you want your Ford in the pink.

Travel-wise owners make sure by having their Fords "Travelized." And not at the last minute, either!

A week or so before their trip, they get the all-round check-up which their Ford Dealer is so well equipped to perform.

Then they know they're driving away in a car which has been given a real "travel-check" by Ford mechanics who have at their disposal the advantages of factory-approved methods and Genuine Ford Parts.

Try this "Travelizing" idea on your own Ford. Let your Ford Dealer go over it point by point, with special attention to the eight under-hood items displayed below. You'll say the peace of mind alone was worth the little time and money it cost you.

SOUP'S ON!

Delivering the makings for that soup and the rest of the food that many an American family ate last year was a major job for us.

The meat, vegetables, grain, fruit and other agricultural products carried over North Western lines in 1952 amounted to over 10½ million tons! If made up into a single shipment it would have required a freight train 2273 miles long!

Moving tons of food from grower to market is but one of our everyday jobs—millions of tons of other products are hauled swiftly and safely over our lines every year.

This is tangible evidence of what the combination of 35,000 loyal employes, efficient road and terminal equipment and 105 years of railroading experience can accomplish when called upon to serve.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

The last of the community vacation church schools will be held for two weeks beginning July 20 at the Presbyterian church. All children are, of course, invited to enroll. Registration fee is 50 cents per child, and boys and girls from four years old to sixth graders are welcome.

This year's theme of the school is "The Bible." Kindergarteners will learn about the Bible in the home, in the family and in Sunday school. They will do rhythm work, handicrafts and have a story time each day. Mrs. Enoch Jordan is superintendent of the younger children, and Mrs. Jack Schuler has charge of those who have already had kindergarten.

In the primary department, of which Mrs. Robert Hawley is superintendent, the students will learn about great shepherds of the Bible and about Indian shepherds of today. Their handwork will include Indian designs.

The juniors will study Bible characters and try to see "God's will for us." Mrs. Robert W. Philips is superintendent, and the new associate minister of the church will also assist with the juniors. They will make vases and wooden letter holders in their craft periods.

Mrs. E. M. Mommsen, who is in overall charge of the vacation school, will be in the church office to register children Sundays, July 12, and 19 during Sunday school hours. Those whose plans cannot be made ahead of time, may sign up the first morning of the session. Further information may be had by phoning Mrs. Mommsen at CL. 3-3793.

Children who have already attended a vacation church school this summer, are welcome at the Presbyterian church's two-week session, as are all boys and girls for whom it will be a first-time experience. Sessions will run Monday through Friday from 9 until 11:30.

Fitting Climax

Universal was the praise for this year's July 4 fireworks display sponsored by the American Legion as part of its six-day holiday festival. "Perfectly beautiful," said one neighbor, and another resident reported that there seemed to be a greater powder charge in the sky rockets sending them higher, thus eliminating the hazard of burning pieces dropping into the crowd while still aglow.

The strong wind served a two-fold purpose — helping pull the smoke away and keeping the mosquitoes at a distance. The electrical storms in the surrounding area — which never actually struck Arlington Hts. — added to the spectacular nature of the picture.

The community celebration as a whole was run very well with something to appeal to every one. The emphasis, of course, was on the youngsters — field day, bicycle judging in the parade, kiddie day on the rides, etc. — which is as it should be on July 4.

It was a big order of scrambled eggs that Dick W. Mitchell, Jacksonville, Fla., dished up for passing motorists near midnight July 3 at the intersection of the old and new Northwest hwy. He was taking a trailer truck of "hen fruit" from Minnesota to Florida. He failed to make the curve at the above point and the truck turned over twice. The scrambled eggs were cooked by the burning of 185 gallons of gas that had been loaded at Barrington. Mitchell sustained two broken forefingers and some burns upon his hands. Palatine fire department extinguished the blaze with wet water. Salvaged eggs were being sold July 4 at bargain prices. Bak Photo

Wins Scholarship

George H. Sheppard, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sheppard Sr., 210 E. Marion, Prospect Hts., and a graduate of the Arlington Heights high school, class of 1953, has been notified by Vernon L. Nickell, superintendent of public instruction, as the student from Illinois to receive a scholarship to Michigan college of mining and technology at Houghton, Mich.

Each year a student in Illinois is nominated to this scholarship, which is based on scholastic record made by the students whose applications are submitted to the superintendent of public instruction.

In a letter to L. J. Knoeppel, superintendent of the local high school, Nickell states, "You should be proud of the scholastic record which George made at your school — it is indeed exemplary."

Big Parade —

parade will step off from the high school at 2 p. m. Further details will be published at a later date.

Other highlights of the festival will include a bigger and better midway, rides for the kiddies at reduced prices, and a special booth for the benefit of hospitalized veterans, which will be manned by the Des Plaines VFW Post 2887 "Cooties." The Ladies auxiliary promises delicious refreshments for all nights of the festival. All games and rides are being manned by VFW or Auxiliary members this year, which will guarantee patrons A-1 service.

IT IS HOPED that proceeds from the festival will be enough to take the Post's building fund "over the top" so that the proposed club house can be started this year.

To date the following groups and individuals have contributed much to make this festival the best ever offered by the Post: Arlington Heights village board, high school board, police department, Don Knapp, George C. Poole, Carl Teutsch and Fred W. Gieseke. Other festival workers include: Mrs. Lorraine Kehe, chairman of the VFW Auxiliary; S. Greschner, festival chairman and parade marshall; Harvey Klehm and John Duthorn, finance and publicity; Ralph Nebel and Carl Luettschwager, refreshments; Robert Koeppen and Alex Angeloff, games and grounds committee; Loren Marschman and Van Huele, booths; Walter Japp and James Urbanowicz, program and Roy Beese, merchandise.

Channel 11 Fund

Local community interest in the establishment of an educational, non-commercial television station for the Chicago area on Channel 11 continues unabated.

Many communities throughout the 60-mile radius of Chicago are organizing for a concentrated fund-raising campaign early in fall to supplement the splendid efforts of those communities and organizations which has brought the fund campaign within sight of the $800,000 goal.

Latest figures from fund campaign headquarters show that contributions to the Channel 11 fund campaign in Barrington have reached $1,230.00 to date. Fred H. Beinhoff, 610 Summit is chairman of the fund campaign for Channel 11 in Barrington.

Kester Gave 41 Years Service To Firm

The sudden passing of Lawrence W. Kester, of Mount Prospect, purchasing agent of Benjamin Electric Co., brought to an end a lifetime of service to a firm in which he started as a young man. He entered the employ of the Benjamin Electric Co. 41 years ago.

During World War I he was a clerk in the cost department. A few years later he had charge of the brass foundry. It was as assistant to President Walter D. Steele, who in 1923 was vice president and sales manager, that Mr. Kester became identified with the executive branch of that company. His next step upward in the council of the management was as merchandise manager and in 1931 he assumed the important office of purchasing agent, a position he has held 22 years.

During World War II when materials were hard to find and harder to obtain, his contacts through the years "paid off." He had the responsibility of obtaining goods that were greatly needed to enable Benjamin Electric Co. to fill government orders and those of customers who possessed the required ratings.

"The position that our company occupies today in the industrial world," stated Mr. Steele Monday, "is due in a large part to the loyalty displayed through the years by Mr. Kester and other 'old timers' in our organization."

Mr. Kester said frequently that he was too busy to take time off to appear before a camera, but the employees of Benjamin Electric Co. best knew him as he appears herewith.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

Graduation day is an important one—one that should certainly be recorded for the family album. Be sure your equipment is in good working order.

How to Be Safe, Not Sorry

NOW and then each and every one of us encounters something that is a once-in-a-lifetime situation. Some of these are, of course, more important than others, but the big and little ones are often occasions for picture taking.

And since the event or whatever may be isn't going to be repeated next week, or next month, or maybe even next year, you want to be sure that your picture is good.

The first thing you must do is to be certain your camera is in good working order and that you really know how to use it. Chances are good that it will work, and that you understand its workings. But I did want to mention this because of an experience a young woman I knew had last summer. She had been taking color transparencies with more than fair success for a couple of years. But when she went to Europe, for the trip that she had been looking forward to for years, she bought a new camera just the day before she sailed. She took almost 200 pictures but when she sent the film in for processing, all she got back was a series of blanks! There was something about the operation of the shutter on the new camera that she didn't understand!

I always advise my friends to try out a new camera before they take it on a trip, or use it for any of the once-in-a-lifetime picture taking occasions.

While telling of such experiences, I'll pass along a story told me by a friend who visited Washington in cherry blossom time. He reported seeing a man who was going to considerable trouble to make some really good pictures of his young son in front of the Lincoln Memorial. He even had the camera on a tripod. Just as he snapped the last picture, the little boy piped up with, "Daddy, you forgot to take that tin thing off the front of the camera." Sure enough, there was a lens cap, guaranteeing that no light reached the film.

I could tell you many more such stories. And probably some of you could tell me some. But they all add up to the fact that it pays to be careful, especially when you won't have another opportunity to picture the same subject.

Seek Financial Help For History Museum

An appeal for an "increase of financial support from the community as a whole" on behalf of Chicago Natural History Museum (formerly Field Museum) is made by Col. Clifford C. Gregg, the institution's director, in his annual report to the board of trustees for 1952. The report has just been published by the museum press in a book of 138 pages with 22 illustrations.

The total number of visitors to the museum during the year was 1,305,556, an increase of 53,804 over the preceding year, Director Gregg reports. Of the total, less than 10½ per cent paid the nominal admission fee charged adults on certain days of the week — the overwhelming majority of 1,170,786 were admitted free.

Des Plaines Water Tower Level at 2 Feet

The Des Plaines water reservoir was down to its lowest point in history when the thermometer topped 100 degrees.

Water level was down to two feet when a loud speaker campaign Saturday and Sunday helped save water. From noon Friday to noon Saturday, 3,329,000 gallons of water were used. From noon Saturday to noon Sunday — when a sound truck roamed the streets—consumption dropped to 2,419,000 gallons, a saving of 910,000 gallons.

Sprinkling lawns has been restricted to 9-11 p.m. North of Algonquin rd. on odd numbered days, South of Algonquin rd. on even numbered days.

Adler Park Goal Set At 27 Gs for Libertyville

Adler Park's fund campaign has shifted into high gear as members of the Libertyville Memorial Park association prepared to launch an all-out appeal for donations from the community.

During the first few weeks of the campaign, a total of $8,745.94 has been collected, largely from industry and business.

Goal for this year is a total of $27,000 in donations.

Illinois TAX FACTS

By George L. Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayer's Federation of Illinois

Now that the Sixty-eighth General Assembly has adjourned, the spotlight is focused squarely on Governor Stratton who alone will determine by use of his veto power whether bills passed by the general assembly will become law.

Only by the free use of his veto power and the tightest possible hold over state spending during the next two years can Governor Stratton prevent a financial crisis in the state government. Even if a financial crisis can be averted, it appears to be a certainty that the number one "must pass" bill of the state administration at the 1955 general assembly will be for a new or increased state tax—probably at least a 3c "sales tax."

The recent general assembly appropriated a total of over one billion five hundred ninety-one million dollars—an all-time high—of which $722,758,802 was against the general fund. It is into the general fund that collections are paid from the retailers' occupation tax (sales tax), liquor taxes, two-thirds of the cigarette tax, and various other state taxes with the major exceptions of the motor fuel and motor vehicle license taxes. It is out of the General Fund that most State operations are paid, with the major exceptions of highway construction and maintenance. It is the condition of the General Fund, therefore, which si of major importance to the people of the State.

While the general assembly appropriated over 722 million dollars to be paid out of the general fund, a liberal estimate of general fund money that will be available for spending during the two years ending June 30, 1955, appears to be around 700 million dollars.

THE MUCH-MALIGNED constitution of the state of Illinois will not permit the state to go into the red more than $250,000 without referendum consent of the people. There are only three possible alternatives to this financial dilemma confronting the Governor:

(1) An increase in revenue from existing taxes so that the cash available for spending from the general fund during the next two years will run in excess of the estimated 700 million dollars. This is possible but not probable. The recent supreme court decision ruling out the "sales tax" on services apparently closes the door on that source of added revenue. The only other major source would be from a further increase in consumer spending.

(2) Veto of all possible appropriation items that can be vetoed, plus rigid financial management to hold actual state spending within funds actually available. Appropriations constitute a ceiling only. More than the amount appropriated for a purpose cannot be spent, but all of the amount appropriated does not have to be spent.

(3) A special session late in 1954, or quick passage of an emergency bill in early 1955, imposing new or increased state taxes to provide the revenue for state operations through June 30, 1955.

THE STATE'S fiscal problem is further complicated by the fact that, despite the enormous sum appropriated against the general fund of over 722 million dollars, some state agencies may not in fact be able to live within the amount appropriated to them. It is probable, for example, that the appropriation to the department of public welfare may prove to be inadequate by millions of dollars to maintain even present service levels. If there is even a slight down-turn in business, the Illinois public aid commission may be hard put to live within its appropriation. There may have to be deficiency appropriations to enable such agencies to continue to operate during the last several months of the two year period. But there can't be a deficiency appropriation under the constitution if the money isn't in sight to cover the cost.

Veterans Must Wear Uniforms Correctly

The Illinois veterans commission issued a warning to veterans that the unauthorized use of uniforms or insignia can mean a fine or jail sentence to offenders.

The IVC announcement said veterans legally can wear uniforms on ceremonial occasions such as parades and meetings of military personnel and en route to these occasions providing the travel involved occurs on the same day.

Veterans are prohibited from wearing uniforms for civilian use unless buttons and military insignia are removed.

The announcement emphasized it is a federal offense to wear an unearned military decoration as well as some "phony" decorations such as the NATO service ribbon, the combat artillery badge or the Korea fourragere.

Violations of these prohibitions can bring a fine of $250.00, six months in jail, or both to the offenders.

Glenview Takes Turns Watering the Lawns

The water situation in Glenview has become critical. There was no water two different times.

Tom Voros, assistant village manager, has reminded residents of the regulation on the use of the village water effective June 5. The use of water for sprinkling is restricted to every other day. Odd numbered houses are asked to sprinkle on odd numbered days of the month; even numbered houses are asked to sprinkle on even numbered days of the month.

Take Care Of Rover If Going On A Trip

Motorists planning vacation trips are advised by the Chicago Motor club to give some thought to arrangements for pets during the holiday.

Birds and cats are best left home. Canaries, the popular "Budgie" birds and other small birds are easily left with friends. Cats, which actually become more attached to places than to people, can usually make out fine at home if arrangements are made with a neighbor to feed them.

Most dogs adapt well to travel, if only a few steps are taken for their comfort. If you're planning a trip that includes the family dog, the club suggests the following tips:

ACCUSTOM YOUR dog to car travel by easy stages. If he is not used to riding in the car take him for a short ride first. Increase the length of his outings gradually. Too long a trip all at once may overtax the dog.

If your dog has not travelled before or if he tends to get car sick, don't feed him before traveling. Dogs can be fasted without harm for 24 hours, although they always require water frequently. Even a dog prone to car-sickness will usually be all right if not fed before traveling.

If unsure of your dog, consult your vet for dog sedatives or car-sickness pills which will keep him safe while traveling.

WHEN PARKING the car with the dog in it, always try to park in the shade and be sure to leave a few windows part-way open for ventilation.

Most motels and hotels accept canine guests, the Touring Bureau of the club points out, but it's a good idea to check up on this before leaving, if possible.

On the road to your destination, remember to feed your dog in the evening when it is cool; he is not excited and has no ride immediately before him. Never exercise the dog too heavily in the hot sun. If you want to earn a friendly wag of his tail, sponge him off occasionally with a damp cloth.

Crystal Lake Lineman Honored for Saving Life

A former Crystal Lake resident, James H. Williams, 29, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Williams, live at 45 Maple st., was honored by fellow employees last week in Marengo.

Williams, a lineman with Illinois Bell Telephone Company, saved the life of a Woodstock resident last July who had collapsed in front of a Woodstock grocery store, by promptly applying artificial respiration. For his alert actions, he was presented with the Theodore N. Vail Award by Gordon Aller, general manager of the company.

Williams also was presented with the American Red Cross "Certificate of Merit," the 1st given an Illinois resident since 1913 when it was established.

Many Mistakes On Social Security Returns Now Being Investigated

Some social security tax returns, Schedules C-a, submitted by small business people in this area are currently being investigated, according to Julius Berman, manager of the northwest social security office at 5396 W. Lawrence ave. These returns were filed in March of this year covering self-employment income for 1952 and are incomplete or incorrect. Investigation is required to obtain additional or corrected information so that the amounts reported may be properly credited to the taxpayers.

THE MISTAKES most commonly made are:

1. Omission of the Social Security account number, or the use of an incorrect number.
2. Giving the name of the business enterprise and not the self-employed individual's name.
3. Inclusion of income which is not covered by the Social Security law.
4. Omission of information as to the nature of the business.
5. Failure to deduct expenses from business profits in arriving at net earnings from self-employment.

SELF-EMPLOYED people are required to have individual social security account cards just the same as other workers. Unlike employees, however, the self-employed person files his own return yearly when he makes out his Federal income tax return. A special form, Schedule C-a, is supplied by the director of internal revenue.

"In completing Schedule C-a some self-employed persons have given the name of their business enterprise and not their own name; others give more than one name. In the case of a husband and wife filing a joint return, we sometimes find that both names are included on Schedule C-a," Mr. Berman stated. "If each of the parties has self-employment income in his own right, separate Schedules C-a should be prepared," he said.

INCOME MOST commonly reported which does not come under social security is rentals from real estate, or income from stocks and bonds. Such income should be reported only when it is received in the course of business as a real estate dealer or a dealer in securities. Income from the operation of a farm, or from the practice of certain excluded professions such as law or medicine, should not be reported.

Entries such as "self-employed," "partnership," or "owner" are not sufficiently descriptive to show whether the income reported is covered by the law. A description of the general classification of the business such as "wholesale food," "retail apparel," or "metal manufacturing" should be given.

DEDUCTIONS FOR expenses such as rent on business property or equipment, depreciation on equipment, salaries and wages paid to employees are the ones most commonly overlooked. Such deductions must be made in arriving at the figure shown us as net earnings from self-employment. "On the other hand," Mr. Berman said, "some taxpayers are erroneously understating their self-employment income. One fairly common error is deducting from net earnings the 'salary' drawn by the self-employed person from his own business."

Letters requesting missing or corrected information are being sent to the self-employed. Prompt response will enable the Social Security Administration to complete action on individual accounts. Mr. Berman states that his staff will be glad to assist anyone who has questions covering self-employment.

The ceremony was held at Immanuel Lutheran church of Palatine with Rev. Hilmar Rosenberg officiating. Paul Leimer was the organist, and Miss Ruth Hayford sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." Red roses and candles formed the setting for the wedding.

The bride's dress was ballerina length and her veil was shoulder length. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and pink rosebuds. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Louis D. Roak.

Her sister, Cassie Marie Plaskon, served as matron of honor. She wore a pink lace dress and a corsage of blue carnations. Miss Marlene Wessel, sister of the groom, served as bridesmaid. Her dress was of blue lace and the corsage of pink carnations.

The couple is taking an eastern tour for their honeymoon, after which they will reside at 2728 Hampden ct. in Chicago.

France Bohne And Robert Freeman Wed

Palms and baskets of mixed white flowers formed the floral setting for the wedding of Miss Frances Bohne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Bohne, Kenilworth rd., Palatine, and Robert Freeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Freeman, Palatine.

Rev. F. A. Hertwig officiated at the double ring, candlelight ceremony held at 7:30 p.m. June 20 at St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran church, Schaumburg. William Kehe Jr. sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Grant, O Lord Thy Blessing" accompanied by Miss Mercie Heise at the organ.

The bride wore a full length gown fashioned with a bodice of lace over satin and an illusion neckline trimmed with seed pearls. The skirt was satin. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a cap embroidered with seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white roses mixed with lily of the valley and feverfew with a white orchid center.

Miss Florence Bohne, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a yellow gown fashioned with a lace bodice and bouffant skirt of net over taffeta. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow carnations and feverfew.

Mrs. J. Gordon and Mrs. Edward Troyke, sister of the groom, were the bridesmaids. Their gowns and flowers in blue and pink, respectively, were identical to those of the maid of honor.

Howard Freeman, brother of the groom, was best man. Robert Bohne and Edward Troyke were the ushers.

A reception for 225 guests was held at Benhart's in Roselle. Out-of-town guests came from Chicago, Rockford and Wisconsin.

The couple honeymooned in Minnesota and Nebraska for 10 days.

PTA To Offer Training Course At Northwestern

The Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, in cooperation with Northwestern university, will offer a ten week leadership training course in parent and adult education to potential PTA leaders of this area in the early fall.

A group of PTA representatives from districts 21, 26, 28, and 32 met at the university June 25 with Dean McSwain and Dr. Cameron Meredith to help design the experimental course, which will be based on fundamental issues in public education.

During the ten week period, subject matter will include psychological principles underlying individual and group leadership, the role of home and school in teaching spiritual and moral values, the role of PTA leadership in the community, impact of teacher shortage — ways to help safeguard the education and opportunities of children and other basic issues.

Emphasis will be placed on child development as well as on dynamics and techniques of group leadership. Dr. Meredith, well known psychologist, will coordinate and conduct the series. The workshop is an example of what the PTA can do to further understanding of public education.

The entire course is planned to be of advantage to teachers as well as parents. Enrollment will be limited. Further information will be forthcoming in the near future.

District 32, DuPage county, had five representatives on the planning committee. They were Mrs. David J. Thompson of Elmhurst, district director, Mrs. John Davenport of Elmhurst, district parent education chairman, Mrs. William Whitehorn, Villa Park teacher, Mrs. Orville Moritz, parent education chairman of the Villa Park PTA council, and Mrs. Ralph Mecklenburg, district publicity chairman and president of the Glen Ellyn PTA council.

Kenneth Klehm, Mary Lou Edman Repeat Vows

Presenting The Younger Generation

Good Pals

That's what little James Schuler, 2½, and his brother, John, 4½, are! Their back yard is equipped with a swing set, sand box and wading pool, and the two little fellows have a fine time playing together. And the apparatus is a lure to the neighborhood children as well!

The blond-haired, blue-eyed sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schuler of 815 N. Kennicott, Arlington Heights, even try their hands at baseball together, with little Jimmy swinging the bat like a golf club. Johnny's ambition is to grow up and be a marine like his daddy was. He attends Sunday school at the Presbyterian church, and will enter kindergarten at the new Ridge school next fall.

The Schulers moved to their new home in Arlington Heights a year ago. The children's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schuler of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kennedy of Park Ridge.

Smiling Lass

Pictured next is a little girl with a gay smile and sparkling brown eyes, Debra Gail Shishkoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Shishkoff of 1021 N. Race st., Arlington Heights. She has brown hair and is 2 years old. We were unable to contact Debra's parents for further information.

A Camping We Will Go

The tot pictured last, 2½-year-old David Schultz, will accompany his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schultz of 903 N. Ridge ave., Arlington Heights, and his brother, Tommy, 7½, on a camping trip this summer. For two weeks in August the family will live in tents and cook out in the woods of Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Little David enjoys playing in his back yard wading pool and riding around in his fire truck. And of course he likes to trail his big brother around!

One of the favorite activities of this brown-haired, brown-eyed boy is raiding the refrigerator, and he helps himself to whatever he can find.

David and Tommy's grandparents are Mrs. Amelia Schultz of St. Paul, Minn., and Mr. and Mrs. David Owen of Arlington Heights.

Favorites for Flavor

By LOIS SEILER

An original recipe for barbecued spareribs, which Mrs. Frank Shaw of 725 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights, devised herself, is our feature of the week.

The barbecue sauce is a tangy combination of chopped onion and celery, catsup, lemon juice, vinegar, brown sugar, Worcestershire sauce, and mustard. Spareribs are baked in this mixture, and they will absorb a wonderful flavor from the sauce.

Mrs. Shaw usually serves these tasty spareribs with baked potatoes, buttered beans and a tossed salad, with lemon chiffon pie for dessert.

If you have a barbecue pit in your back yard and like to cook outdoors during the summer months, try grilling spareribs and basting them with this sauce. It's excellent!

Or the sauce can be used combined with left-over beef or pork to make delicious barbecued sandwiches.

Barbecued spareribs is a favorite dinner of the Shaws' three children: Kenneth, 12, Jimmy, 10, and Sandra, 9. They all attend St. Peter Lutheran school. Kenneth will be in eighth grade and Jimmy and Sandra in fifth. Mrs. Shaw is a member of St. Peter Mothers' club.

Barbecued Spareribs

- 3 pounds spareribs
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- ½ cup catsup
- ½ cup water
- ½ cup celery, chopped

Wipe spareribs with a damp cloth and cut in serving-size pieces. Place in a shallow baking pan or casserole and bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, 30 minutes.

Meanwhile saute onions in butter. Add remaining ingredients and simmer for five minutes.

Pour barbecue sauce over the spareribs and bake for an hour longer, basting with the sauce. Serves five.

Mr. And Mrs. Lorenz Mark Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Lorenz, 1887 Shermer ave., Northbrook, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary June 27 at Michigan Shores club, Wilmette. Two hundred relatives and friends were present to honor the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz were married June 3, 1903. They have three children, Mildred Griffin and Herman, both of Northbrook, and Dr. George A. Lorenz, Long Beach, Cal., all of whom were present at their parent's anniversary celebration. Herman operates the Northbrook Garage and George is a chemical engineer for Shell Oil Co.

Their four grandchildren are Jay and Gerry, sons of Herman, and Judith and Joan, daughters of George.

Fredrick Lorenz, grandfather of William, migrated from Germany and settled on a 44 acre tract at the corner of Shermer and Techny rds., then called Shermerville. Part of this farm still belongs to the family. Mr. Lorenz' father and his grandfather were wagon builders. His father later moved to Northbrook, where Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz live now. They opened a wagon and blacksmith shop. In 1912 Mr. Lorenz persuaded his father to sell Studabaker and Ford cars.

Mrs. Lorenz, nee Rugen, was born and raised in Glenview and came from a family of eight children, most of whom live in Glenview. One sister, Birdie Johnston, lives in Port Arthur, Texas, and another, Nellie Lutter, lives in Libertyville. One brother is dead. Mrs. Lorenz is 68.

Mr. Lorenz, who is 72, had a twin sister, Emma, who died at the age of 6 months. His brother, Alfred, also lives in Northbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary at the Elm Gate Country club in Glenview. They still live to travel. In 1949 they went to Europe to visit their son, George, and his family, who were living in The Haag, Holland. They took escorted tours of England, France, Italy, Switzerland, Luxemburg, Belgium, and Holland. Their daughter and her husband went with them. Last year they took another escorted tour to the Grand Canyon, Oakland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Catalina Island, Hollywood, Mexico and Carlsbad Caverns. They said, "We think life is good at any age."

Out-of-town guests at the party busides their son, Dr. George Lorenz, and his family of California, were Mrs. Lorenz's sister, Birdie Johnston and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lutter, a nephew of Washington, D.C., and Charles Uchtmann of Iowa. Other guests came from Chicago, the North Shore, Glenview and Northbrook.

Mrs. Lorenz's dress was made of real gold metal lace, imported from Paris, France.

'Polio Season is Here,' Says Health Head

Polio cases in Chicago and Cook county have shown a marked increase over last year for the first six months, city and county health department officials reported Wednesday.

Dr. John Hall, head of the Cook county health deaprtment, said 28 cases have been reported this year—12 of the cases occurring in June. None of the cases have been fatal. For the same period in 1952, only eight cases were reported in the county, none of which were fatal, Dr. Hall said.

Dr. Hall said there was a general increase in polio cases throughout the United States so far this year but he added that this did not necessarily mean that more cases would occur this year than in previous years.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

A sacrifice of selfishness, envy, hatred, all evil thinking, on the altar of divine Love, purifies the affections and aids in cancelling our obligation to God. This will be explained in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 12. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be SACRAMENT.

The Golden Text is from I Corinthians (5: 8) "Let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth."

Lesson-Sermon passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:

"And a certain man lame from his mother's womb was carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms of them that entered into the temple . . . Then Peter said . . . In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk . . . And he leaping up stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God" (Acts 3: 2,6,8).

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"It is the living Christ, the practical Truth, which makes Jesus 'the resurrection and the life' to all who follow him in deed. Obeying his precious precepts,—following his demonstration so far as we apprehend it,—we drink of his cup, partake of his bread, are baptized with his purity; and at last we shall rest, sit down with him, in a full understanding of the divine Principle which triumphs over death" (p. 31).

Dead 'r Alive, Bushman Popularity Goes On

The popularity of Bushman, Chicago's famous Lincoln Park zoo gorilla, did not fade with his death. Probably as many persons each day visit his stuffed body at the Chicago Museum of Natural History as every day came to watch him when he was behind the cage bars at the zoo.

In fact, the popularity of the animal, whose death at the age of 22 years made page one headlines in January, 1951, has the museum worried.

"People coming to see him create such a crowd it's difficult for us to keep them under control," said H. B. Harte, public relations director of the museum.

The body of the gorilla, which was stuffed immediately after death, is in an obscure corner of the first floor that houses the African displays.

IT WAS moved there from the Stanley Field hall where it had been the first six months after the animal's death.

"We thought by moving it to a more obscure place that we could cut down the number of visitors, but our idea didn't work," said Harte.

IN EFFECT, Bushman's coming has made the other exhibits second rate in the eyes of visitors.

"It used to be that people would tell their friends to meet them near the display of the two elephants, but now they tell them to come to Bushman," said Harte.

"I can't understand why they pass up many of our more valuable and more interesting collections to look at a stuffed ape," he said.

Bits O' Business

Housing bill extension will put the onus of lowering down payments, when the market needs a stimulus, upon Ike . . . King-size cigarettes help offset tobacco export cuts. They use 17 per cent more tobacco per smoke . . . Real wages rose 10 per cent from April, 1952, to April, 1953, says the Federal Reserve Board . . . The National Association of Purchasing Agents thinks there will be an old-fashioned summer slack season this year.

DEPENDABILITY

Among the thousands of persons visiting the new home of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Des Plaines during the grand opening this week were many of Chicagoland's most prominent representatives of the financial world.

A typical group, accompanying First Federal's President Walter L. Plew (left) on a tour of the new building, was Austin J. Waldron, president of First Mutual Savings, A. R. Gardner, president of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Chicago and Earl T. Marquardt, president of First Savings of Forest Park and River Forest (left to right in the photo).

Although the grand opening celebration began July 2 and continues until July 11, the new building has been open for business since May. One of the big attractions of the grand opening celebration is a contest with the first prize of a vacation trip via TWA to any part of the United States.

Towel Into Tunic

THERE IS SOMETHING NEW under the sun! Beach towels are so well styled this year that smart women are wearing them instead of just using them to stretch out in the sun! This handsome beach towel tunic is one example. The Cannon Homemaking Institute says that you can make it by pinning the center of one side of the towel around the body in an attractive tunic effect! A length of cotton rope used as a belt keeps the graceful drapery firmly in place. (ANS Features.)

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Wallace F. Granzin, who passed away one year ago, July 5, 1952.

You are not forgotten Wallace dear,
Nor will you ever be.
As long as life and memory last,
We will remember thee.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes by, we miss you more,
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your vacant place.
One year ago since that sad day
The one we loved was called away,
God took him home, it was his will,
But in our hearts, he is with us still.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. I sent my employer of 10 years a wedding invitation when my daughter was married, but never received any reply or acknowledgement. Was it wrong for me to mail the invitation to him?

A. Although business and social life are not usually joined, there was nothing improper in your sending an invitation. Most certainly, your employer's neglect or refusal to answer the invitation was an extreme act of discourtesy.

Q. Should the first page of a social letter be numbered?

A. No, this is neither necessary nor proper. You may number the other pages, if you wish.

Q. Isn't it now considered all right, when eating soup, to break a few soda crackers into it?

A. Yes.

Q. How much time is the bride expected to spend with her guests at the wedding reception?

A. She doesn't have to remain more than two hours. She may then retire to her room with her maid-of-honor to change into her traveling costume.

Q. If a man finds it necessary to introduce himself, does he include the "Mr." before his name.

A. No; he usually says, "I am Harry Williams," or, "My name is Williams," unless he has the title of "Doctor," which is then prefixed to his name.

Q. Should a dinner guest who has finished eating immediately place his napkin on the table?

A. Not until his hostess has placed her napkin on the table.

Q. My wife and I are in the process of adopting a baby, and I should like to pass out cigars at my office when the baby becomes ours. Is this proper?

A. It most certainly is.

Q. How should one remove cherry pits from the mouth at the table, by dropping them into a spoon or into the cupped hand?

A. Either method is proper, although it would seem that dropping them into the hand is better, because it is less conspicuous.

Q. Should a person staying overnight in a hotel leave a tip for the maid who cleans his room?

A. This is not necessary.

Q. How should a recently divorced woman sign her name?

A. If she wishes to keep the "Mrs." before her name, her husband's surname must be preceded by her own maiden name, as, "Mrs. Bates Johnson." She is never Mrs. Mary Johnson.

Handy Jim's FIXIN'-UP TIPS For Farm and Home

Trailer Bed Extension

AROUND the farm, hauling is a constant problem. Sometimes the two-wheel auto trailer is the right size, but other times it's too small.

The illustration shows a way of doubling the capacity of a trailer by constructing a demountable box, which simply fits on top of the trailer bed.

Using scrap lumber, form two rectangular frameworks the size of the trailer box. Cover the sides with Masonite quarter-inch Tempered Presdwood, a tough material that will stand lots of abuse.

Now nail, as shown, four two-by-fours to the inner framework. These will then fit into some iron strapping that should be bolted into the trailer. Then the trailer-on-a-trailer is complete. When not needed, it is easily removed and stored.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

How greatly we are indebted to a group of young firebrands. At the court of George III, they were obviously regarded as subversives; if they had lost, many of them would surely have lost their heads. "When, in the course of human events," they said, it becomes necessary . . ." they had a sense of timing and of history.

Life does many things to people. There are times of blessing and times of misfortune. Men of conviction and courage must learn to put up with the misfortunes, up to a point. But there comes a time when some misfortunes of life are seen to be a result of injustices perpetrated against them. Something must be done.

". . . a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them . . ."

Reasonable men do not take action willy-nilly. Reasonable men do not follow unreasonable courses; nor do they expect that any course of conduct is wise simply because they wish to follow it. Therefore they stated their case out of respect to the reasonableness of mankind.

THEY STARTED with a philosophical statement of their understanding of the nature of human governments and of the rights of man. ". . . whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new government . . . Prudence will dictate that governments long established should not be exchanged for light and transient causes . . ." Then they went on to specifics, listing the instances in which the established government had forfeited its right to govern by disregard for the rights of persons.

So they declared their secession from the Crown, but they were aware that this would not be approved in the court circles from which they were declaring their freedom," . . . we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor." They were willing to run the risks involved in their actions. They knew what the consequences might be and accepted the fact, ". . . with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence . . ."

HAVE WE always counted the cost of accepting that heritage? every revolution since 1766 has depended in some measure on their courage and their example, yet we have not always recognized our share in the endeavors of others. In the midst of world ferment, when the long-oppressed peoples of Asia rise to cast off imperialistic chains, we have frequently left the initiative to others. The present success of communism in Asiatic countries, as well as in Russia, is far more a token of revolutionary identification than of devotion to the communist cause. But if we have abandoned the heritage of the Declaration, to whom else shall the new revolutionaries turn?

Public Service Increases Would Average 6½% For Local Users

Commonwealth Edison company has asked for the first general rate increase in its 66-year history. In the case of the average residential electric customer of Edison and its Public Service company division (who uses 161 kilowatthours a month), it would amount to approximately 50 cents a month.

The company filed new rate schedules with the Illinois commerce commission fixing increases approximating $16,450,000 annually for its 1,725,000 electric customers in Chicago and northern Illinois. The schedules also provide increases amounting to $2,900,000 for the 435,000 gas customers outside Chicago served by Public Service. The amounts are based on operations for the twelve months ended April 30, 1953.

THE ELECTRIC and gas rate increases would each average about 6½ per cent.

Against its 66-year history of no general rate increases, Edison has had 26 electric rate reductions. Public Service had two increases resulting from the inflation of World War I as against 37 electric rate reductions and important gas rate reduction durits 42-year corporate history.

Willis Gale, chairman, said revenue increases are necessary to offset higher costs and preserve the company's credit. This is vital as the company must raise $280,000,000 of new capital in the next four years, he added. Edison is spending $500,000,000 on new construction from 1953 through 1956 to meet the growing needs of the area.

NEW SCHEDULES propose that a fuel adjustment clause, as now applies only to large electric customers, be extended to all kilowatt hours sold. The new fuel clause provides that the cost of electricity to all consumers shall increase or decrease as the cost of fuel fluctuates.

It is expected that the Herscher Dome project for the underground storage of gas will result in a sharply reduced amount of gas being available for boiler fuel. If no gas had been available in the twelve months ended April 30, 1953, the amount of the electric rate increases, as stated above, would have been $3,000,000 greater.

FUEL ADJUSTMENT if applied today would be 16/100 of a cent per kilowatthour. This is based on the increase in fuel costs from 1945 to 1953.

Present and proposed Public Service residential rates are as follows:

	Present	Proposed
First 40 kwh.	5½c	5%c*
Next 60 kwh.	3c	3¼c*
Over 100 kwh.	2c	2c *

* Plus fuel adjustment

THE SCHEDULES also provide for a minimum average charge of 2.3 cents per kilowatthour (plus fuel adjustment) for large residential users. This minimum would affect less than 1 per cent of the system's residential customers.

Under the proposed rates, a Public Service residential customer using 150 kilowatthours a month would pay 49 cents more than at present.

Increases for commercial, industrial and other customers would average around 6 per cent.

There would be an increase of about 2½ per cent for residential gas customers outside Chicago, who use gas for cooking and water heating. The increases for residential space heating and for commercial, industrial and other "firm" gas users would average about 10 per cent.

In addition, an adjustment clause would be included in the gas rates to cover future increases in the cost of natural gas to the company.

REDWINGS TO OPEN LEAGUE PLAYOFFS AT HOME SUNDAY

Giants Score Five Runs In First Inning To Open Little League

Arlington Heights Little League officially opened its playing season Monday night, July 6, at Recreation park.

The Giants (South) defeated the Cardinals (North) 6 to 1 in a game limited to 4 innings by darkness.

In pre-game ceremonies, village officials, heads of sponsoring organizations and officers and directors of the League were introduced by Byron Sayre, Master of Ceremonies. League president Lloyd Taylor briefly described the organization and its objectives. The first ball was thrown out by Mrs. Loraine Buckley, president of the Womens Auxiliary, to Harold Luettschwager, who then pitched it to Dr. Lynn with Lloyd Taylor batting. Head umpire Earl Hadland then called "play ball" and the game was on.

THE GIANTS struck early, scoring five runs in the first inning with the aid of a triple by Tom Taylor off Willard Meyer, starting and losing pitcher for the Cardinals.

The pitching for the victorious Giants was handled by Tom Taylor, the winner, and younger brother John.

TUESDAY night, June 7, the Yanks tied the Braves, 1-1, as John Weisenbach and Paul Incaprero engaged in a pitching duel.

Highlights of the game were a booming triple to center field by Bill Harrington and an unassisted double play by first baseman Fred Fisher.

ANOTHER meeting of directors of the Little League was held following Monday night's opening game with many problems ironed out. First on the program was the size of team rosters.

About thirty boys are enrolled on each squad, with only 15 permitted in uniform at games. New plan is to have the 15 first stringers suit up for each game, with the other 15 playing opposing reserves the following night.

This will give more boys a chance to play and form the nucleus of a minor league certain to be in full swing next summer. These groups will compete on one of the high school diamonds.

PLAYING fields planned for next year include one at the South school, at the high school, in addition to the one at Recreation park. Next year there will be both minor league and pony league, in addition to the parent Little League.

Liability, property damage and bodily injury insurance have been taken out by the Little League, giving all boys coverage.

MAC SAYS

BY G. A. McELROY

HARRY BOLLE of Highland Park is a shop teacher who has handled the golf team for the past 20 years. He has to work hard to break 100 himself, but he has had phenomenal success with his golfers and probably no coach in the suburban area has a record to match his.

This past season his boys won their sixth state championship to top all schools of the state in number of golf titles. He also has two seconds and a third in state tournament play.

Last spring he told us that he thought 20 years was long enough to handle a sport which had been given him back in 1934 as an extra duty on a temporary basis. He thought if his team came through this year he would retire from golf directing.

OUR GOOD FRIEND "Bud" Nangle, Prep Sports Editor of the Chicago Daily News and a resident of Palatine, has been having two weeks of the best fishing anyone can find. Anyway that was the idea when he and two others left two weeks ago this Friday for Flin Flon, Manitoba to fish in an area noted for big ones and lots of them some 500 miles north of Winnipeg.

We are expecting some big fish stories when he returns this week-end.

Palatine high coaches are keeping busy this summer. Art Zimmer and Russ Dowell are doing graduate work at the University of Illinois in biology and mathematics, their specialties. Claude Bailey is boss of a maintenance crew at Palatine high which has the job of washing walls, windows and furniture, and scrubbing and waxing the floors of all the rooms in the enlarged school plant.

J. E. Stutzman, athletic director, is also working at the school on painting, plumbing, and carpenter work. Stutzman teaches shop work. Dick Welty is busy as park director. "Gene" Moylan is finishing work on an M.A. degree at Drake university. John Ellis is a milkman in his home town of Geneva, Ill. Charley Feutz, next year's varsity football coach, is at present in camp as a reserve officer in the army.

JOHN BURNISON, Waukegan high football coach, could not have picked a better place to transfer his coaching talents than the school where he will be employed next fall. Chaffee high school and junior college at Ontario, Calif., is one of the finest schools in a state noted for good educational institutions.

Of the many cities we visited in California last February in connection with attending a national convention of high school principals we picked Ontario as the one where we would most like to live.

THE MYRTLEWOOD, slated for Arlington Park Saturday, is named after one of America's greatest racing mares. She set a six-furlong track record at Arlington in 1935 (1:09 2/5), which also broke a world's record which had stood for 21 years (Iron Mask, 1:09 3/5, Juarez, 1914).

This track record was first broken by Carrara Marble in the 1949 Myrtlewood with a 1:09 1/5, equalled in 1951 by Johns Joy.

This record fell to Hill Gail early in this year's meet when he did the six furlongs in 1:08 4/5. Myrtlewood won 15 races, was unplaced only once in her 22 starts. Her sire was Blue Larkspur, first winner of the Arlington Classic. She died in 1950.

No jockey has won the Myrtlewood more than once. Four-year-olds have won it seven times, but five-year-olds won last year and in 1951.

IF YOU WANT TO ENJOY an interesting Sunday afternoon go over to Libertyville and watch the Arlington Farms polo team play opponents in the International Polo League. . . . Bill Klaus, former Grant high star in baseball and football, is going great with the Toledo team of the American Association. The last two years Klaus has come close to sticking in the majors with the Braves but has been farmed out each time. He is working hard to make the grade and play major league ball in Milwaukee, the city where he played in the minors for three seasons. . . . This is the month of the state semi-pro baseball tournament at Elgin, with Johnsburg Tigers defending champs. . . . Joe Jackson won all four games for the Tigers last year, beating Peru 13-0, Utica 3-1, RCA 4-2 and Elgin Legion 2-1.

Paul Hahn, trick shot wizard and one of the outstanding golf personalities, will appear at Bonnie Dundee course Saturday, July 11.

Hahn discovered there's more money in entertaining golf fans than playing the game. . . . His bag weighs 90 pounds and contains 26 clubs, some "unorthodox." . . . Four of the all-star game starters are "new to the game," including Ed Mathews, Ted Kluszewski, Mickey Mantle and Gus Zernial. . . . First thing baseball scouts look for in a pitcher is a fast ball, with control and a curve certain to come later. . . . Agility, speed and sure hands are most important for infielders, with speed rating tops among young outfielders. . . . First running of the Hyde Park Stakes, slated for Saturday at Arlington Park, was back in 1884. This year it'll be the 41st running, since '29 at Arlington.

Kruse Schlitz Moves Into 2nd Tuesday Golf

How long can these boys from the Geo. O'Day Realty team keep up their fast pace in the Mount Prospect Tuesday golf league?

That's the question as the O'Day team won another stunning eight point victory over K. R. Whitton Realtors.

This red hot team has stayed in first place by a slim one point margin until this week, when their victory leaves them a good five points ahead of Henry Kruse Schlitz.

THE SCHLITZERS moved into second from 6th place last week by virtue of an eight point win over the Mount Prospect Jewelers. This demoted the Jewelers from 2nd to 4th place.

In third are the Mount Prospect Lions, which won seven out of ten from Wille Lumber and Fuel.

Winkelman's Shell Service tramped on Mt. Prospect Electric, 8 to 2. This moved Winkelman's up a notch from the cellar, and demoted the unhappy Electric team from 3rd to 8th.

Harold Kutchera birdied the 11th and 14th. Bill Lovell birdied the 5th and 7th. Other players scoring birds were: Larry Sbarbaro, Hal Jauch, Bob Payne, Ben Lytle, Art Crothers and Fred Welsh.

Paddock Tourney Golfers Of '41-'42 Have Improved Scores

That former competitors of Paddock-sponsored golf tournaments have improved over the years was proven this week in a summary of the newspaper sponsored individual tournaments at Mohawk country club in 1941 and '42.

Eight golfers competing those years have also strived for honors in one of the three Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap tournaments held these past three years at Mount Prospect Country club.

This year's eight league event will be held August 16 at Inverness Country club, a "neutral course" insofar as the local leagues are concerned. First place teams August 1 will be eligible for the tournament.

EIGHT GOLFERS, six of them from Bensenville, who were in those early, pre-war meets sponsored by Paddock Publications, have competed in the Paddock Inter-League tourneys these past three years.

Six have improved their golf, one has held even and one dropped in the ten year span. Most improved is Jerry Goble of Bensenville. Jerry carded 105 and 92 in the '41 tournament, then shot 80 last year in the Inter-League affair.

Scott Kinnaman of Bensenville carded 91-90 in 1941, then shot 85 in the 1950 affair. Gene Gutnick of Bensenville hit 90-86 in '41, 89 in 1951 and 83 in 1950. Ray Kehoe of Bensenville carded 82-90 in '41, and 79 in 1950.

STILL MORE golfers of that "early era" who have improved include Bob Geils of Bensenville, who shot 82-81 twelve years ago, 78-77 a year later, then hit 78 in the 1951 affair.

Fred Welsh of Mount Prospect hit 102-85 in 1942, and 85 in '52. Carl Hammerl of Mount Prospect shot 89-84 in '42, and 78 in '52.

Whether any of these golfers will make this year's tournament is unknown at this writing. Their squads will have to be in first place August 1 to insure their appearance at Inverness August 16.

THURSDAY, JULY 9, 1953

Ed Rash, Jr., Just 12" From Ace In Wednesday Golf

With the exception of a few minor changes, standings of the Wednesday night division of the Mount Prospect twilight golf league remained virtually the same as a week ago, indicating the effectiveness of the great equalizer, Mr. Handicap.

In retaining first place and second place respectively the two top teams, Mt. Prospect State Bank and Busse Motors could achieve nothing better than a 5 to 5 split with their opponents, Sundberg's Store for men and Moler's barber shop, although the latter are well down toward the bottom of the league. The remaining teams fared very nearly the same splitting the possible ten points almost evenly. The nearest thing to a decisive victory was Mt. Prospect Bowling Lanes' 7 to 3 victory over Annen & Busse.

EDMUND A. RASH Jr., captain of Annen & Busse, created the sensation of the evening and took the heart out of Geo. Laubenheimer, his worthy opponent, on the 200 yard 4th hole. His educated slice rolled to within 12 inches of the cup for a near hole-in-one and an easy birdie. Ed came home with a 41 gross, 31 net, and the only three points scored by his team.

Other birdies were scored by Harold Johnson and "Beast" Ball, No. 1; Rollie Becker, No. 4; C. Hamberg, No. 7; R. Peterson, No. 9; Mike Weber, No. 15; Hal Kutchera and H. Grimm No. 18.

Poole Fords Boot 2 Games For Tie And Loss

by BOB FRISK

The error jinx finally caught up with Arlington's junior Legion baseball team, George C. Poole Fords, last week end in two exhibition contests against Park Ridge and Oak Park.

Manager Lloyd Meyer's outfit was charged with twelve misplays for the two contests or four more than they had committed in their first six league games.

Saturday, July 4, the locals came from behind to tie Park Ridge 4-4, in a game called after eight innings of play on account of darkness, but they dropped an 8-4 decision to Oak Park Sunday for their first loss of the season.

The team was scheduled to meet Portage Park Wednesday night in the ninth district championship tilt.

Two clutch hits by Rog Thomas and Larry Fischer averted Heights from an apparent defeat in the game with Park Ridge.

THOMAS' DOUBLE, his third hit of the game and second two-bagger, came with one out in the final inning and Arlington behind 4-3.

Dave Ryden then popped out to second, but Fischer came through with his first hit of the game and season, a line single to center, driving in Thomas.

Both teams failed to score in the eighth and the game ended, a 4-4 tie.

Ryden pitched for Arlington and was the victim of six miscues by his teammates. Only one Park Ridge run was earned with three coming as a direct result of errors.

Wayne Hesch and Thomas each collected three hits for Heights.

LAST SUNDAY the locals took on a strong Oak Park nine, boasting an 8-1 mark, and although they outhit the visitors, 7-5, they trailed in the important column, 8-4.

Mike Shanklin started on the hill for Arlington and went the first five innings, allowing three hits while striking out three and walking five. Ryden finished up the game.

Oak Park jumped off to a quick 3-0 lead in the first frame on a single, two walks and a misjudged fly ball which fell for a base-clearing triple.

THE VICTORS tallied two more runs in the fourth on another lapse in the outfield, then added their sixth run in sixth and final two scores in the seventh.

Arlington countered twice in the fifth on an error, walk and singles by Thomas and Charley Verret.

Ted Bakalar drove across the last two runs in the seventh when he singled with the bases loaded.

Colored Softball Team At Palatine Sunday Night

The world-famous Hot Ten Tots, colored softball team, which has played exhibition softball many years, is coming to Palatine Sunday. They will "play" the Palatine softball team at 8:30 p. m. under lights. The Legion-Lions carnival will be in progress upon adjoining grounds.

Individual members of the Hot Ten Tots have broken many records. They have visited leading cities of the country where they were booked by local clubs. Only three times in history have they been defeated. Palatine does not expect to be able to beat them, but the local boys will put up a tussle and give the fans more than their money's worth in both excitement and fun.

Palatine business men have donated a host of prizes, which are on display in the window of Olsen Music Store and Northwest Bottled Gas and Appliances. Admission to the game will be 50c. No charge for the carnival.

Prospect Heights Little Leaguers End First Half

The halfway mark in Prospect Heights Little League competition found the Cardinals leading the pack with five victories and no defeats. The Cards scored their fifth victory June 29 when they beat the Phillies, 10 to 2. The Phillies, coming along strongly after a weak start, had been touted as the team to trip the leaders, but a five run fifth inning kept the Redcaps on the undefeated list.

Red Sox beat the Cubs, 12 to 9, July 1. Bill Phar led the Red Sox batting attack with a home run and a double.

The White Sox and Braves battled to a 7-7 tie on July 3rd, the game being called at the end of the regulation six innings. This game will be played off later. The White Sox came from behind in the last inning to tie this one, and it was shortstop Rusty Bunn, who swung the big bat for his team in this one with two doubles and a triple.

Lady Golfers At Inverness

Eighty lady golfers from 12 Chicago district golf association clubs will compete in district play at the Inverness Golf club next Thursday, July 16. There are four divisions of competition based on handicap. Palatine's team composed of Mary Coates, Katy McIntosh, Jean Lee, and Agnes Teuteberg will compete in the third division. A number of clubs have teams in all four divisions.

Clubs sending teams to Inverness will be Tam O' Shanter, Ridgemoor, Green Acres, Park Ridge, North Shore, Sunset Ridge, Twin Orchard, Knollwood, Barrington Hills Rolling Green and Thorngate.

Last Wednesday, July 1, in a flag tournament the winner was Lillian Kiefer with second going to Jean Hicks who was winner of the putting prize with only 29 strokes on 18 greens.

MONDAY afternoon Stan Arendt, Inverness professional and "Hardie" Hodgson, club member, played in the Chicago district pro-amateur best ball tournament and scored a 71 to tie for 16th a field of 41.

Dee Dinnelli, Itasca country club pro and Julio Campagni, Sunset Valley amateur were the winners with 66. Each pro could match his score with any of the amateurs in his twosome, threesome, or foursome and Dinnelli in combination with Mike Bergo of Itasca scored 67 for second place. Dinnelli himself scored a 71 but best individual card was a 70 by Guy Paulson, Medinah pro who paired with Ed Sawyer for third place with a 68. The tournament was held at Tam O' Shanter Country club.

Locals Host To South Chicago In Midwest Tourney

Arlington Redwings won two more thrillers Saturday and Sunday, both of them in ninth innings. Saturday the local semi-pros edged the Chicago Wizzos, 6-5, and Sunday beat Erickson Boosters in Evanston, 4-2.

Dick Lloyd, regular Redwing shortstop, broke his thumb in Sunday's game in Evanston. His .441 batting average and good fielding will be missed in the coming playoff games.

Twenty-six squads will open the Midwest league playoffs Sunday afternoon with the Redwings playing host to Ford Aircraft Engineers of South Chicago at Recreation park. The locals finished second last year in the double elimination tournament.

THE REDWINGS started fast Saturday against the Wizzos. After Connie Hernbrott walked to open the first inning, Gail Bach of Mount Prospect doubled, scoring Hernbrott. Dick Lloyd was passed.

After Spinks and Morrissey struck out, Earl Simpson singled, driving in Bach. Eric Nelson also singled, scoring Lloyd. Art Scheiwe was on base via the error route, filling the bags. Pitcher Bill Stretton hit a grounder which caught Nelson at third for the final out.

THE WIZZOS tallied two in the third on a single, walk and a double. Bach notched his third hit of the day, a double, to start things in the sixth for the Heights nine. Lloyd was on via an error and Spinks singled, scoring Bach.

A sacrifice bunt by Morrissey brought in Lloyd. After the Wizzos tied the score in the seventh with three runs the locals came back with a singleton in the final frame to take the contest.

Stretton fanned eleven, walked seven and permitted nine safeties.

AT EVANSTON Sunday an error in the fifth inning put Art Scheiwe on base for the Redwings. Singles by pitcher Paul Lang and lead-off Connie Hernbrott brought him in with the lead run until the Boosters scored once on an error, single and two fielder's choices.

The locals came right back in the eighth when Bach doubled and Elmer Kirchhoff, who had taken Lloyd's place at short, singled to take the lead, 2-1.

The Boosters came back to tie things in the bottom of the eighth, but the Redwings scored two more in the first of the ninth to take the game. Singles by Nelson and Scheiwe and a double by Lang turned the trick.

Polo Finals Sunday At Rollin' Rock

Play-offs in the early season Indoor-Outdoor polo tournament at Rollin' Rock polo club, Devon and Dee rd., Park Ridge, start Sunday, July 12, at 3 p.m. Four teams are in the play-offs, the tournament to last throughout July with a 6-chukker game scheduled each Sunday.

Rollin' Rock's field, one of the finest of its type in the country, adds to the speed of the game since it is a "skin" field—smooth, level soil rather than the grass turf type. Roughly the size of a football field, it has 3-foot high sideboards which keep the ball on the field.

Only local player on any of the four teams is Bill Miles of Arlington Heights.

Mt. Prospect Merchants Little Leaguers Edge Chicago Squad

Mount Prospect Merchants edged the White Cap Dodgers at Mount Prospect July 5, 4-2. The Dodgers, a team from Chicago, gave the local boys a terrific ball game.

Sofka, Dodger pitcher, limited the local boys to six hits and collected two of his team's five safeties to lead his ball club.

Gary Jobst pitched for the Merchants and allowed only five hits, although he gave up eight walks to keep himself in trouble. At the crucial moment, though he came through to get the side out.

WITH THE score tied, 3-3, in the last of the sixth, Erbar slashed a double to left center. Grams then drove a hard grounder through short to send Erber home with the winning run.

Grams also had a home run in the first inning to lead the Merchants' offense.

Next Sunday, July 12, the Merchants will face the White Cap White Sox at 2 p.m. at School and Busse.

These Mount Prospect boys have the enviable record of never having lost to a Little League team this year. Their record against single team units is 19 victories and no defeats.

Midget Races Saturday At Soldier Field

Among the sports events in Chicago this week are the stock car races Wednesday and Sunday nights in Soldier Field where several scores of brightly painted late model automobiles will whirl and crash their way around the full quarter-mile asphalt oval to constitute the major league of pleasure car racing.

The 25 lap feature race for which 24 cars have battled their way through sprint races, a forward-backup event and a semi-final to gain a starting position, is climaxed by the Australian Tag.

Eleven race meets have been held to date this present season in the lake front stadium and the clean, hard fought competition is evidenced by the fact that eight different drivers have won the feature race. Only Kenny Netzel with three and Tom Pistone with two, have captured the event more than once. The other memmers of the select and well-earned title holders are, Larry Odo, Herman Jordan, Dave Hirschfield, Lou Fegers, Paul Bell and the latest to join is Orv. Kerbel who is the only one of the group to be the fastest qualifier on the night he won his trophy, which means starting in last position and working his way up through the fast and congested field.

The second in the series of three A.A.A. sanctioned national championship midget auto races scheduled for Chicago this summer, will be held in Soldier Field Saturday night, July 11, bringing to the lake front stadium, many of the nation's top "speed aces" from coast to coast

O'Connell-Babcock Duo May Upset Lions In August All-Star Game

The collegians participating in the 20th annual All-Star football game, sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., may come up with the greatest passing combination in the history of the series. Coach Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech, repeating for the second year in a row as head all-star coach, is counting heavily on Tommy O'Connell of Illinois and Henry Babcock of Georgia to upset the pro champions, the Detroit Lions.

O'Connell, the Illini slinging quarter back, wrote 14 new records into the Western conference ledger last fall and led the nation in passing. In the Shrine East-West game he established records of passes completed, 21, passes attempted, 37, and total yards gained by passing, 230. It was one of the greatest individual performances ever staged in the west coast contest.

On the receiving end of seven of those 21 completed passes was Babcock, including 1 catch he took lying upon his back in the end zone for the first East touchdown. This big end, who originally reported to Wally Butts at Georgia as a blocking half back, also cleared his end of the opposition enabling Billy Reynolds of Pittsburgh to scoot for the deciding touchdown in this game.

Myrtlewood And Hyde Park Stakes At Arlington

by HARRY SHEER

Three more big ones—the Modesty and Myrtlewood Handicaps and the Hyde Park Stakes—are up for decision during the third week of racing at Arlington Park.

Wednesday's twelfth running of the $15,000 added Modesty attracted 23 nominations.

For the second consecutive Saturday Arlington will offer twin features, the Myrtlewood and the Hyde Park. Each event carries $20,000 added money.

The Myrtlewood is for three-year-olds and upward and will be run at six furlongs on the main course. In all, 21 of the best runners stabled at Arlington have been named for the 13th running of this event.

JAMIE K., pride of James D. Norris' Spring Hill Farm, is expected to make his Arlington debut in the Myrtlewood. The three-year-old Crowfoot colt is fresh from a victory in the Leonard Richards Stakes at Delaware Park. He will be long remembered for his driving stretch finishes behind Native Dancer in this year's Preakness and Belmont Stakes.

K. G. Marshall's Coffee Money, who took the Myrtlewood last year, will be out to make it a double.

Calumet's Hill Gail, who recently set a new Arlington six-furlongs record of 1:08 4/5, will be out to wipe out a recent Equipoise Mile defeat at the hands of Ruhe and Sub Fleet. The great Bull Lea colt already has the 1951 Arlington Futurity and 1952 Kentucky Derby and Santa Anita Derby to his credit. Except for the Equipoise, he has been competing at six furlongs since returning from a year layoff.

REVERIE KNOLL'S Flyamanita has also been named for the Myrtlewood.

H. B. Delman's Roaming, who established a new mark last week Wednesday of 1:04 for five and one-half furlongs, is another strong contender for the Myrtlewood. The four-year-old gelding won the Churchill Downs Handicap last spring.

The Hyde Park, five and one-half furlongs contest for two-year-olds, has lured 38 hopefuls. Many of them have already displayed winning form, and two are multiple stakes winners.

Rawlings Bout

Luther Rawlings, Chicago's top ranking welterweight contender, will be given another opportunity to make a strong bid for new laurels when he clashes with hard-hitting Johnny Brown, in one of the three 8 round windups in the Rainbo Arena, Monday night, July 13.

Lessons In .... English

by W. L. GORDON

Words Often Misused

Avoid the use of "capacity" to express "ability." "Ability" signifies any kind of power, while "capacity" is properly only the power of receiving something. "John has the ability to typewrite well, but not the capacity for details of spelling and punctuation."

Do not say, "Please do this right away." It is much better to say, "Please do this at once (or, immediately)."

Do not say, "There is quite a little candy left in the box." "Quite" means wholly or entirely, as, "You are quite mistaken."

Do not say, "All of the people went outside of the house." Omit both "of's."

Do not say, "I am anxious to see him" when you mean, "I am eager to see him." You can say, "I am anxious about my wife's health," which expresses worry.

Words Often Mispronounced

Buoy, buoyancy, buoyant. Preferred pronunciation of first syllable is boo, oo as in boot.

Chastisement. Accent first syllable, not the second.

Affluent. Accent first syllable, not the second.

Chicanery. Pronounce shi-kaner-i, both i's as in it, the a as in cane (not as in can), accent second syllable.

Refugee. Accent is on last syllable, not the first.

Combatant. Accent is on first syllable, not the second.

Words Often Misspelled

E'er (poetical contraction of ever), Ere (before). Err (to go astray). Crews (ship's companies). Cruise (to sail about). Cruse (a pitcher). Cockscomb (a plant). Coxcomb (a conceited fop). Faker (a deceiver or swindler). Fakir (Mohammedan ascetic). Disperse; erse. Imburse; urse.

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Imperceptible: not capable of being understood by the senses or mind. "One's lapses into indolence can often be imperceptible."

Impunity: exemption from punishment, harm or loss. "It seems he can speak with impunity on any subject."

Bellicose: warlike. "Why do men persist in adopting these bellicose attitudes?"

Korean Truce Won't Affect Farm Prices

Effects of a Korean truce on agriculture and the general economy will depend on how government, corporations and individuals react.

L. H. Simerl, extension agricultural economist at the university of Illinois, doubts that the government will change much from its aims of maintaining national security and economic stability and development.

Even if the government wanted to change its spending policies quickly, it couldn't, the economist says. Appropriations made in former years will still be spent.

ACTUALLY government policy has had little to do with the boom since 1950, he believes. This boom has been caused more by corporations increasing their debt to pile up large inventories in anticipation of scarcities and to buy new plants and equipment, and by family spending for new housing.

After a truce, individuals and corporations may act just the opposite to reduce spending and their debt. This would be deflationary. For the last few years, government money policy has been anti-deflationary, Simerl points out, but that could change quickly if deflation becomes a problem.

* * *

FISCAL AND monetary policies are more effective in offsetting inflation than in offsetting deflation. They are seldom as good to stimulate economic activity as they are to slow it down. Reduction of taxes would help to stimulate economic activity, and a truce in Korea may strengthen the case in Congress for lower taxes.

Drouth or insects this year could cut production enough to offset lower demand and could be more important than government policies in influencing prices.

Virus May Cause Red Leaf in Oats

Red or orange leaves in your oats may be due to a virus disease carried by aphids.

Benjamin Koehler, crop pathologist at the University of Illinois, says that several counties in Illinois report the malady showing up in oat fields this summer.

Red leaf begins with the lower leaves of the plant. In severe cases only the stem and head may remain green when the grain is in the milk stage. Losses as high as 50 per cent have been reported at this stage, Koehler says.

Red leaf may also be spotty in your fields. It may occur only in a few spots, or it may involve a whole field.

The best way to control red leaf in oats is probably to develop varieties that are resistant to the disease, the pathologist says. All present varieties are susceptible to some extent.

The newest addition to the John Deere Tractor line—the 4-5 plow Model "70"—has just been announced by Stavros Farm Equipment Co.

The Model "70" replaces the Model "G" in the John Deere tractor line. The biggest new feature of the "70" is its more than 50 h.p. which they state "is ample for handling a four-bottom plow in most conditions, five bottoms in many soils, four-row bedders, 14-foot double-action disk harrows, 20-foot disk tillers and similar big-capacity equipment." Stavros added that the "70" is built to handle the new big capacity John Deere No. 227 Corn Picker.

The Model "70" is on display at Stavros Farm Equipment Co You are cordially invited to stop and see this new tractor.

Expect Beef To Continue A Good Buy For Housewives

Beef will continue to be a good buy for housewives for the next two or three years according to National Live Stock Producer, America's leading live stock magazine, which discusses the five major habits of beef cattle prices in the July issue.

In brief, here are the five major beef cattle price habits as determined by an analysis of records since 1870.

Beef cattle prices reach a high point every 14 to 16 years, and low points at similar intervals—about midway between the high points. This swing from high to low and back again is known as the cattle price cycle.

CATTLE PRICES tend to decline about half from their high to low points. Average dollar value of cattle at the four peaks 1885, 1889, and 1915 and 1929 was $30.17 per head. Average at the four low points in 1891, 1905, 1925 and 1934 was $16.04 or 47% less. Average purchasing power declined from 135 to 68 or 50% during these periods.

Cattle prices are lower than hog prices most of the time. Since 1909, cattle prices have been higher than hog prices in 10 years and lower in 33 years. During this period prices received by farmers have averaged $9.61 per cwt. for cattle and $10.76 for hogs or 12% higher.

* * *

WHEN BEEF supplies exceed pork supplies beef prices become sharply lower. Since 1903, there have been four years 1910, 1917, 1918 and 1947 when beef supplies were higher than pork supplies. In those years, per capita supplies were 62 pounds of pork and 68 pounds of beef. Prices of cattle averaged 10.45 or 33% less than the average $155.55 price of hogs.

Consumers spend a fixed portion of their income for meat. This has ranged from 5½ to 6½ % regardless of the size of income or of the supplies of meat.

Cattle prices began a downtrend cycle in 1952. If the cycle follows previous patterns cattle numbers will increase from the present 94 million to about 100 million head by 1956 at which time the supply of beef marketed will be 20% greater than at present. Beef supplies for 1953 are estimated at 11% above pork supplies.

The most important thought I ever had was that of my individual responsibility to God.
—Daniel Webster

Class Motor Oil Now By Engine Types

The next time you buy motor oil you may notice that it is now classified by the type of engine with which it is to be used.

It's also classed by the kind of service the engine will give and the kind of fuel to be used, says Ray I. Shawl, agricultural engineer at the Illinois college of agriculture.

These new classes are flexible and will allow manufacturers to change their oils to suit new engine changes in the future. This flexible standard of oils has been approved by the American Petroleum Institute.

AS AN EXAMPLE of the new way of naming motor oils, that to be used with gasoline, LP-gas or other spark ignition engines will be classified as ML, MM or MX, depending on the service conditions for its use. For diesel engines, oils will be classified DG or DS, depending on service.

The old motor oil names of regular, premium or heavy duty no longer apply, Shawl says. Body of oils will still be classified by the SAE numbers, 5W, 10W, 20 20W, 30, 40 and 50.

Gasoline engines today develop about three times as much power as they did 30 years ago, the agricultural engineer points out. High compression, high speeds and high operating temperatures of today's engines have put higher requirements on the performance of oils.

MOTOR OILS today contain chemical compounds that combat cold, corrosion, engine deposits, oxidation, oil plating, foaming and other bad effects. Gasoline and motor oil "dopes" in small quantities don't do very much harm or very much good, Shawl reports.

The U. S. Bureau of Standards recently tested more than 150 fuel dopes, none of which showed any important improvements in engine performance. On the other hand, some were found to be corrosive to hard metal bearings.

High-quality motor oil doesn't insure good oil performance if operator abuses his engine, Shawl says. Overloading, overspeeding, lack of air cleaner care, clogged radiators, poor ignition and crank case ventilation and too lean fuel mixtures can cause more operating troubles than a good motor oil can overcome.

Average Farmer Now 48 Years of Age

The average Illinois farmer is a little over 48.3 years of age and has operated the same farm for 13 years, according to a report of the 1950 census of agriculture just received by supervisor Dayton P. Jorgenson of the census bureau's district office at Chicago, Illinois.

The report is a preprint of the General Report, 1950 Census of Agriculture, Volume II, Chapter 2, and presents data on age, residence, years on farm, work off the farm and other income of farm operators. The preprint is available from the superintendent of documents, government printing office, for $1 per copy.

Illinois farm owners, on an average, are 14.2 years older than farm tenants, according to the census report which states the average age of farm owners as 54.6 years and the average of farm tenants as 40.4 years.

Among farm operators reporting on number of years of residence on the same farm, owners averaged 17 years and tenants averaged 8 years.

Almost two out of five Illinois farmers derived income from work off the farm, according to the census bureau. Of 195,212 farm operators enumerated in the 1950 census, 64,725 reported work off the farm in 1949 and 52.3 per cent of these had worked 100 days or more off the farm.

Many On Farm Training Okays Are Delayed

Illinois veterans who have applied for institutional on the farm training under the Korean GI Bill were warned their applications are being delayed by the veterans administration.

Chicago regional office manager Robert D. Beer said the delays are developing because applicants are not submitting the proper type of evidence regarding leases on the farms they intend to operate as part of their training program.

* * *

VA REGULATIONS state the veteran must submit a written lease or certified photostatic copies as evidence they are in control of the farm. The lease must have an accurate legal description of the farm and contain a provision whereby the landlord divests himself of possession of the property when it's turned over to the veteran for training.

In addition, the lease should have both a start and ending date covering the period of time the veteran will be in possession.

Leases may be on regular printed forms usually obtained from banks, real estate agencies or attorneys. The university of Illinois college of agriculture also supplies an acceptable form of farm lease.

MANY VETERANS, who have made application for farm training, indicate they have had several years of farming experience but do not state the nature of the experience. This was also cited as a delaying factor.

In such cases it may be necessary for the veterans administration to request more detailed information on the veteran's prior experience in order to determine if he has been a successful farm operator in the past.

VA regulations state applications will not be approved if the veteran is now successfully operating or, in the reasonable past, has conducted a successful farming operation similar to that for which the course he's applying for will qualify him.

Farm Boys and Girls To Hold Junior Market Show in City in August

Farm boys and girls will take over the International Amphitheatre August 25 at the 14th annual junior market hog show and marketing day when a large showing of top quality market hogs is anticipated by 4-H and FFA youths engaged in hog raising projects.

According to the sponsors, the purpose of the event is to encourage young farm people to become successful producers of market hogs by demonstrating the kind of hogs desired by consumers of pork, and also the type which can be most efficiently produced. Quality factors that effect price will also be stressed.

All hogs placed in the blue ribbon group will be allowed to compete for prizes. They will be judged in two divisions, one for single hogs, and one for pens of three. The hogs will also be judged in two weight classes in each division; one for entries weighing 190 to 220 pounds and the other for those in the 221 to 250 pound range.

Entry blanks and premium lists may be obtained by writing to Show Headquarters, 840 Exchange ave., Union stock yards, Chicago 9.

Get More Feed from Your Own Pastures

Could you use twice as much feed from your permanent pastures?

Ernest D. Walker says that you can get it by tearing up the sod, treating the soil and reseeding to a good grass-legume mixture.

The soil conservation specialist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture suggests the place to start your pasture renovation program is with a soil test of the field. Then you'll know how much limestone, potash and phosphate you'll need to put on.

If your field needs lime, keep it in the surface soil. It's a good idea to plow first and then put on the lime.

On sloping pastures plowing or renovating should be done on the contour. If your field is too steep to plow, spread the lime on the surface and then work it in with a disc or field cultivator.

Apply phosphate and potash as needed at the time of seeding, and work it in as you prepare the seedbed.

For your information, see your county farm adviser for a copy of Circular 703, "5 Steps in Pasture Improvement." Or write directly to the college of agriculture, Urbana.

Roy G. Henderson of 723 S. Fourth, La Crosse, Wis., walked away from his twisted truck cab after a near fatality on Rt. 58 Tuesday. He was traveling east when a car swerved in front of his truck. In trying to avoid a collision his brakes locked and the truck jack knifed and turned over in the ditch. Two wreckers from the Arlington Fender and Body shop were called to right the truck.

Keep Insects Out Of Stored Grain

Get the best price you can for your stored grain by keeping insects from eating up the profits after you have binned it.

H. P. Petty, extension entomologist at the Illinois college of agriculture, says you won't get much weevil damage in the field. Most of it occurs during storage.

Pockets of old grain from last year's harvest in your combine are the first source of insect contamination. It's a good idea to save the first few bushels run through the combine for livestock feed and not mix it with grain for storage.

CRACKS IN the beds of trucks or wagons may also be sources of insect contamination. For effective control, spray the beds with 2 pounds of 50% wettable methoxychlor powder in 5 gallons of water to the point of run-off.

Before you store your grain, clean up around the bin, sweep it out and burn all refuse. Then spray the bin with the same mixture as is recommended for the wagon beds. At present you can use wettable DDT powder bin sprays instead of methoxychlor if you wish.

IF YOU PLAN to store wheat for a month or more, fumigate with a grain fumigant within three weeks after binning. Use between 4 and 8 gallons of fumigant for each 1,000 bushels of grain. Use higher amounts of fumigant on small amounts of grain in a bin, on the less airtight bins and when grain temperatures are extremely high.

Or you can avoid rehandling the grain if you treat your stored wheat with one of the activated pyrethrin protectants at the time you put it into the bin. Add pyrethrin protectant to the wheat either as it comes from the combine into the wagon or as it streams into the bin.

Offer 127 Purebreds At Sheep Sale

Sheep breeders have consigned 127 head of purebred stock to go on sale at Urbana on July 18.

That's the date of the annual show and consignment sale of the Illinois purebred sheep breeders' association at the livestock pavilion of the University of Illinois.

Sale order will be determined by placings in the morning show starting at 9:30 CDT, according to U. S. Garrigus, head of the sheep division at the College of Agriculture and sale manager, Ed Brown of Plainfield, Indiana, will place the sheep.

Consignors guarantee animals to be breeders if properly handled. If any ram or ewe sold is not a breeder, the consignor will replace it with another of equal value or refund the purchase price, according to the rules of the sale.

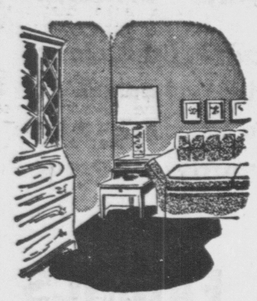
ROOM TOO LONG AND NARROW?

Don't emphasize the length of a long room by placing the broadest piece of furniture flat against a long wall. This will only call attention to the room's poor proportions. And, don't place a tall, narrow piece on an end wall for the same reason. Plan your furniture arrangement carefully so that you . . .



MODIFY THE ROOM'S APPARENT DIMENSIONS

Place the broadest piece of furniture against the short wall. A sofa with a lamp table and lamp at each end will give a widening effect. Break up the long walls by forming a writing group, say, on one wall . . . with a music group at the other end of the room.

Opening Concert Sunday At College Camp

The opening concert of "Music By the Lake" at College camp on Geneva Lake, Wis., Sunday evening, July 12, will feature two great soloists in a joint concert, Miss Lois Marshall, dramatic soprano, and Eugene List, pianist.

Miss Marshall from Toronto, Canada, made such a tremendous hit in her New York debut last winter that she was selected by Toscanini to sing the high soprano part in Beethoven's "Missa Solemnis" in his final concert of the season with the NBC Symphony Orchestra. Miss Marshall was immediately signed for a concert tour of the U. S.

The second artist in this joint concert is the brilliant piano virtuoso, Eugene List. American-born and trained, List has achieved fame at home and abroad.

Other artists in the series are Mischa Elman, violinist, July 19; The Moline Boys' Choir, July 22; Igor Gorin, Baritone, July 26; The Chicago Symphony String Ensemble, August 2; Robert McDowell, pianist, August 9; The John Halloran choralists Saturday, August 15; and Dorothy Maynor, Sunday evening, August 30.

Jackies James Has Lead in 'Gentlemen Prefer Blondes' Show

The Music Theater has added another first to its long record of firsts by presenting for the first time in any summer theater, the New York smash hit "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." Judging from the advance sale for this hilarious musical, the Music Theater believes this will be one of its biggest attractions of the 1953 season.

Jacqueline James, one of the fastest-rising stars in show business, will play the role of Lorelei Lee, the role which Carol Channing made so famous, and will sing the hit song "Diamonds Are A Girl's Best Friend." Her friend and companion, Dorothy, will be played by Mary O'Fallon, who travels with Lorelei to Europe.

Following "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" will be six "hit" musicals: "Girl Crazy" July 21 thru July 26; "Brigadoon" July 28 thru Aug. 2; "Allegro" Aug. 4 thru Aug. 9; "On Your Toes" (Rodgers & Hart) Aug. 11 thru Aug. 16; "Kiss Me Kate" Aug. 18 thru Aug. 26; "Lady In The Dark" Aug. 27 thru Sept. 6.

'On Borrowed Time' Next at Showcase

"On Borrowed Time," a whimsical tale of an old man and a small boy, opens Tuesday, July 14 at Evanston's air conditioned Showcase theatre. Directed by David Lewis, the Paul Osborn drama with pathos and humor is the third offering of the summer season at Showcase.

Arthur Peterson, resident member of the all-professional company, who was seen in the recent production of "Ah, Wilderness!" at Showcase, will play the lead role of the lovable old Gramps, and Ronald Keith will play Pud — his "boy."

The last performance of "Petticoat Fever" is Sunday, June 12.

At Grant Park

Grant Park concerts of Wednesday and Friday, July 15 and 17 will mark the final appearance at the lakefront music series of resident conductor Nicolai Malko. His Wednesday concert will include well-known symphonic and operatic selections and will feature the symphony orchestra in the "Antar" Symphonic Suite by Rimsky-Korsakoff. Lois Marshall, Canadian concert and radio star, will be soprano soloist in songs and opera arias. She will return as soloist at the Friday concert.

Since July, 1951, elements of the 14th have kept the area safe from air attacks by the use of barrage balloons. In the United Nations sweep to the Yalu, the 14th performed demolition duties, maintained roads and constructed bridges. In the withdrawal from the Yalu river, the battalion played a major role in the destruction of Boengyang, and later in operation to deny the enemy Seoul.

Leroy Anderson, celebrated composer and conductor, will make his first appearance in Grant Park Saturday and Sunday, July 18 and 19, as conductor of the Grant Park symphony orchestra in a pops concert-composer's program featuring a number of his own works.

'Legend of Sarah' At Chevy Chase

Carl Stohn, youthful and imaginative producer of Chevy Chase Country club summer theatre (one mile north of Wheeling on routes 21 and 45) will present for the first time in the Chicago area, a spicy and sophisticated comedy hit of the 1950 Broadway season, "Legend of Sarah." The premier of the James Gow and Arnaud d'Usseau play is set for Tuesday, July 14 at 8:40.

The plot of "Legend of Sarah" hinges on the reputation of Sara Pinney, Revolutionary War heroine of the Pinney family. Seems great, great, great grandmother Sarah Pinney was held captive for four days by British General Howe. However rumor had it that the good old General yielded to the wiles of Sarah and by so doing allowed George Washington and his forces time to escape the British trap and go on to win the War for Freedom. Any similarity to history is quite coincidental. The truth about the whole affair is contained in Sarah's missing diary which turns up with hilarious results.

Schaumburg losses were:

Fred Pfingsten — 2 barns destroyed, 1 cow, and all crops remaining on the farm.

Ferdinand Panzer — lost a barn, horse and dog.

Louis Nerge — barn, 5 horses and a bull.

Lack Of Interest

The report of an interview with our state representative in Springfield, Mrs. Bernice T. Van der Vries, appearing in last week's Herald should raise some provocative discussion among our citizenry. Without in any way meaning to berate Mrs. Van der Vries, it should be said she has every reason to be unenthusiastic about the accomplishments of the legislative session just ended.

Disgusting and disgraceful might be a more appropriate nomenclature.

It might be pointed out that this was a Republican controlled legislature and it would take a pretty callous Republican to assert any very real pride in its achievements.

THE FACT that two of the most important and far-reaching measures to come up for consideration — the so-called Crime Bill and the Judicial Reform Bill —were turned down seems to indicate clearly again, as it has in so many instances in the past, that it makes very little real difference whether Republicans or Democrats are in control. Since both seem to toot the same tune to the call of identically the same group of racketeering, Cut-throat bosses, since both seem to bow with equal spineless ease to the political demand of thugs and mobsters, what difference how the voter marks his ballot.

Another measure turned down by the legislature was Rep. John King's bill to outlaw the manufacture of slot machines in Illinois. The facts and figures notwithstanding, apparently a majority of the legislators couldn't bring themselves to renounce their racketeer sponsors. The shout and clamor about gambling will go on in an effort to hoodwink the public that something is being done.

The old political adage that if you make enough noise about what you're going to do, the public will forget you never did anything, seems to bear out. Or is it that the public, except for a minority, really doesn't care.

* * *

STATE'S ATTORNEY Gutknecht has made a lot of noise. He has a record for being an excellent noise-maker. It remains to be seen whether he means business and if he means it, whether he'll be allowed to do it. Whatever the outcome, I like what he said recently—he at least had the sand to point a finger directly at his television audience and say that we citizens, each of us individually as well as the collective group, are responsible.

Don't blame Stratton, Van der Vries, Libonati or anyone else. If you don't demand good legislation and good government, work for it and work at practicing it, then you have no right to squawk.

The loudest squawkers are invariably the biggest do-nothingers. It takes courage and moral fortitude to be a good citizen and an active citizen. Anybody can be a jelly-fish and apparently a lot of us are.

Arlington Resident Brings First Hand Report Of West German Friendship

I am not an editor and I did not go to South America, but on the assumption that readers of Paddock Publications may be a little interested in a journey, by proxy, to the coronation in England and to the "jumping off place" between East and West Germany, I am sending from Paris these notes.

I probably chose the same excuse to go to England early in June as thousands of other Americans — the coronation. It was a great show and well worth photographing, which is my hobby. After the excitement was over, I flew to Scandinavia and then to Germany, where I was anxious to visit to see how near I could get to the Reds without being arrested—it was a few hundred feet.

It was a real adventure. We went to the Old Reistag, Brandenberg Gates, where hammer and sickle boys sneered at us. Germans and Russians are like two roosters in a cage.

I notice German biycles by hundreds going back and forth to work in East or to work in West through Brandenberg Gates.

American MP's stopped our armored car and asked the Germans what they were doing with an American. They could hardly believe they were acting as my host. These Germans were wonderful to me, very pro-American, and it was hard to realize we were their bitter enemies eight years ago.

Earl Reinert, Arlington Heights, brought back this picture from Berlin last week.

On the right is the Reistag. It is the former government headquarters for the old German government. Goering, by the orders of Hitler, burned the interior in 1933. It was worth millions and millions and was one of the finest buildings in Europe. Today, although abandoned, it still stands as a mark of the purge of Hitler. At the last battle of Berlin, the Gestapo held out until the last when Russians attacked with tanks, massacring hundreds.

On the left is the American-Russian victory monument. It is guarded by Russian soldiers who change guards every two hours. To reach it they pass through the British and American zone thru the Brandenberg Gates. The soldiers that change guard never come back to the monument because they have seen too much already. Things are tense at the monument because of the Russian attitude toward cameras.

I left Chicago by air for the coronation in London, then went to Stockholm and later Frankfurt, Germany.

Two weeks ago I flew through Berlin Air Corridor from Frankfurt to Berlin. We saw no Migs in the corridor, but we were required to wear our safety belts which was an indication of tenseness. We landed at Temple of Aerodrome in Berlin, one of the most modern aerodromes in the world. It was the landing spot for the Berlin airlift corps which carried coal and supplies.

My first observation was, and is, tremendous destruction of Berlin. There is less rebuilt than in other parts of Germany. Railway station roofs have not been replaced. The people look poor, beggars are in the streets, and housing is scarce.

On the second day in Berlin, I boarded a train, expecting to get off before we reached the Russian zone. I can speak a little German, so I got suddenly brave. Before I knew it, I had almost slid into the Red zone.

I left the train near the Russian border where I conversed with German police, who were in large numbers around this wrecked railway station. Actually they are members of the German Army.

Little did I realize in a few days the tenseness that would be in West Berlin's free world outpost. After talking to them for 15 minutes, four German frontier police showed their hospitality by taking me in an armored car on a tour of the British and American zone of Berlin. What a deal!

One block inside the west, from Brandenberg Gates, is American-Russian victory monument for World War II. Russians guard it now. "He will break your camera if you get too close," German police said. The guard had a mean looking automatic rifle.

It was the lull before the storm. Russians were easing all restrictions—no more cards to fill out for those going to the West. That was June 12 when I was still in Berlin. I left Berlin and was one of the last American civilians to fly through the air corridor. It is closed now, and only American-British-French military traffic — you know the rest — the uprising Thursday.

The great uprising last Thursday, reports Paris newspapers, reveals super plan by independent east German underground. They push the east German prisoners west through Brandenberg Gates.

Soviets staged a fake 10,000 man demonstration trying to prove to residents of east Germany they were not being oppressed. Then it happened—100,000 Germans in two hours were going mad in streets, one block east of Brandenberg Gates, where everything was at peace when I was there a few days earlier.

In Paris Sunday morning, I saw several thousand Frenchmen, mostly Reds, rally in front of American Embassy here at La-Pe-Concord—two blocks from this hotel demanding release of Rosenbergs. One killed, 400 jailed, it was not a small show. Thousands of French gendarmes were on hand.

Regards,
Earl Reinert.

Earl Reinert's use of a polaroid camera and gift of snap shots to two West German soldiers, shown above, earned him a sightseeing tour in a police truck a month ago while the Arlington Heights resident was visiting Berlin.

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

For about two weeks now we have been driving down Northwest hwy. between Arlington and Palatine gazing benignly at the great fat signs advertising that Acme had beautiful fireworks for sale.

As this was definitely outside the village limits, we knew that the local police had no jurisdiction so we waited patiently for the county police to take over. We had read in our metropolitan newspaper about the marvelous fight the county and cities were making about illegal fireworks in the state.

In the meantime, we nodded sagely to ourselves and maintained that this particular stand was not long for this world.

We were right. Just as soon as the glorious fourth had shot its last cap pistol, the stand quietly folded its tent in the night and faded away. So much for the fireworks, the signs are still standing for all who care to read them.

Saturday night, as we sat with our feet up and our eyes glued to some very poor television movie, the welcome odor of DDT reached our nostrils and we knew that the mosquito control boys were at work.

We were happy and content because it means that we could weed the poor neglected garden without bruising ourselves swatting our winged friends.

But, lo and behold, the entire insect family fled before the storm and took refuge around our lamps. We have never had so many just plain bugs in the house at once since we have lived here. It all reminded us of the time that we owned a basementless house and in the fall the whole great outdoors decided to come in and live with us.

The mice and rabbits and other small flora and fauna could not seem to understand that our welcome mat at the front door did not include them. Cruel as it was Saturday, we went to bed in the dark in order to avoid their caresses of gratitude. Too much gratitude can pall sometimes.

We feel that we must comment on the good taste of Arlington theater owner Don Knapp. As our small fry look forward to their Saturday movie all winter, spring, and fall as a perfectly wonderful place to get rid of their weeks' accumulation of allowance, we feel just terrible if we must veto their proposed three hours watching the silver screen spout off lovely nonsense.

There ARE movies made that we parents just cannot approve and we are not above putting our foot down and saying that this movie will do you, chillens, no good and some harm.

There is not too much worry with Mr. Knapp doing the choosing. With unfailing perspicacity, he picks the best there is for his youthful theatergoers and if he feels that what is good for the grownups at night will not suit his afternoon audience, he plans separate shows.

What more could a parent ask of the entertainment division of Arlington Heights businessmen?

We have had many a sedate chuckle at the orderliness of Euclid ave. traffic during racetrack time, both coming and going. It has been our misfortune in years past to have to cross this thoroughfare at the wrong time of day.

Today we gaily rush up to one of the four-way stop signs, wait our turn, and buzz on through, smiling nastily into the faces of those who are hurrying madly to make the daily double.

We have heard townspeople complain because they are somewhat slowed up in their travels through town on account of the new signs. We have seen the explanation given by one of our aldermen in the Fence Post as to why the signs will stay during the racing season. We heartily concur with Mr. Bronwell that the signs stay until the invasion is over.

It is so nice not to have to ground our young from their bicycles from noon to 6 p.m. We are all for the signs staying and the children being able to get to the pool in comparative safety.

Five minutes one way or the other getting down town is worth it, knowing that the flow of traffic on Euclid is down to a snail's pace. We, personally, are all for the snail's pace. It's fast enough these hot days.

Legion Fireworks

The somewhat pretentious one-half page advertisement by the Merle Guild American Legion Post No. 208, which appeared in the Thursday, July 2, issue of the "Arlington Heights Herald" interested me considerably. In the aforementioned advertisement the Legion boasted that it would discharge $1,000 worth of fireworks for the, I assume, amusement of the gay 4th of July crowd. I found myself seriously questioning the value of such a gaudy display of fireworks.

These stimulated doubts prompted me to investigate the historical activities of the American Legion. From the information I could garner I discovered that the Legion had initiated and carried through numerous highly creditable social programs for American veterans and their families and stood staunchly behind everything that was patriotically American.

If then, I asked myself, the Legion's credo is social betterment for American vets and the defense of the American way of life, why were they squandering a thousand dollars on several bangs and a few sparks of light?

AFTER PONDERING this self-posed problem I was able to formulate (what I believe to be) three possible reasons for the Legion's traditional 4th of July fireworks extravaganza: 1) To entertain the restless crowds that mill around the carnival grounds on every sweltering 4th of July evening; 2) To remind the masses that there is such an organization as the American Legion; and 3) To recall the days of Paul Revere when a handful of ragged farmers sent The Ruler of the Waves limping back across the Atlantic dragging her tea tax behind her.

The first reason I am sure would divide the American populace into various schools of thought based upon age, sex and intelligence. My personal reaction is to wonder why such a progressive people should insist upon this particular annual self-inflicted torture. For, in truth, the brilliant flashes blind my eyes and the thunderous roars deafen my ears.

SECOND REASON I mention only to be academically honest. Too many persons have been aided by the strong and friendly hand of the American Legion to forget that such a group exists. As long as an organization is sincerely striving to accomplish good it should neither need nor want advertising.

The third reason was that it might remind us of the dedication and fortitude which drove our defenders on to victory in the fight for independence. But is the imitation of deadly weapon fire, which must inevitably reincarnate the terror, pain, misery and fear of the battlefield, the way to do this? Would it not be more suitable to reverently consider the principals which transformed tranquil pioneer farmers into vicious fighting men? Would it not be better to refreshen the American mind with the comforting ideals of peace rather than the heinous methods of war?

MY PATIENT reader might interject, what constructive conclusions can be drawn from these merciless harangues of criticism? My suggestion would be two: A) Consider the benefits which Post 208's $1,000 multiplied times the hundreds of Legion Posts all over the country could give to humanity. More community houses, playgrounds, parks, hospitals, research laboratories and schools could be built; slums could be cleared; law enforcement and public information and education programs could be strengthened; and scholarship unemployment and poor funds could be increased. Aren't greater human values to be derived from such investments than from indiscriminant explosions of gun powder?

B) If the American Legion truly wants to preserve and strengthen our democratic way of life they must soon realize what our foreign aid advocates discovered. To encourage friendship towards a way of life one cannot flout lightning and thunder in the faces of a people but instead, give them something tangible to appreciate. The contemporary Legionnaires could well learn a lesson from their predecessors of 1921 depression times These men scourged the haunting spectre of communism back to his dungeon by sinking their capital into desperately needed employment agencies and relief funds. These judicious activities should long be remembered for not too dissimilar circumstances exist in vital areas of our nation today.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

"What do you do when your next door neighbor enters your yard and kicks your sprinkler over because it is sprinkling her lawn?"

When a mailman hears that kind of complaint accompanied by the lament of an aggrieved patron that her own generous attitude toward her neighbor is not appreciated, he is wise to remain silent.

It would be hard to fix the blame on either party in this case. Both women were grown people, married, with children, certainly old enough to know better. Kicking over a sprinkler is the act of an emotional child; but complaining about it to the mailman is equally immature.

I ALWAYS remember with a chuckle a young married couple my wife and I visited when we were first married. An argument started as to whose clothes should hang where in the one small closet of their little apartment. In a fit of exasperation, the husband threw his wife's best dress on the floor, trampling it. Retaliation was swift and sure when his wife threw his best suit out of the closet, then literally jumped up and down on it until is was a mess.

The air was charged with more impending warfare, so my wife and I went home. To this day we both laugh when we recall that incident.

Almost everyone I know seeks sympathy, understanding and justification for his or her acts, whether they are actually justified or not. True sympathy, deeper than words, is seldom found. We have all suffered our own little private hells, which, to us at least, top everything that can happen to others. Nearly every one has his own nasty little method of getting even. Women are particularly adept at catty, cutting remarks which salve the injured ends of their petty pride, jealousy or envy. Many men are adept in the act of giving the cold shoulder or sarcasm, but not to the extent of women.

MATURE PEOPLE should be capable of acting with dignity and thoughtfulness. It is far better to overlook childish acts of temper by others than to grieve over them, or seek revenge; it is also far better to keep them to one's self. Learning to understand, to forgive and forget is a must, especially in marriage. Most of us get along with immature grownups when we are tolerant and patient.

There are times when we have to defend ourselves; but often patience and understanding can convert a dangerous enemy into a loyal friend.

June Rainfall

Rainfall for the month of June totalled 4.67 inches as compared to the average for the month of 3.15 inches.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

FROM PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

I hope that by the time you read this letter our latest heat wave will have passed, however, as I sit here writing to you this evening, I feel like one of my sconce-held-candles, which I discovered this afternoon hanging wick down! We love our little third floor apartment, but we must admit that when the temperature is around 98 degrees it is absolutely one of the hottest places anyone ever tried to exist in.

Possessing a flat roof (too high for shade), no attic or insulation, I'm sure, it collects all the heat of the day and holds it within its thick walls until about three in the morning, at which time it allows a little of the cool night air to seep in very slowly (just enough to let us know that it's about 15 degrees cooler outside).

DURING THE DAY the girls and I are not bothered too much by the heat, since our mornings are usually spent on the beach, and the afternoons in the yard under the big shade trees. But, there is little we can do to be comfortable when it's time for bed. Even the third, nice, refreshing bath of the day, taken just before bed time, doesn't help much.

Speaking of the heat, nurse Ruth Crowley had some interesting tips on how to keep baby cool, on her 1:00 p.m. TV program, "All About Baby." I'm not one for the majority of daytime television programs, however, I do enjoy very much this 15 minute visit with Miss Crowley, and a new baby guest each day. I really think that nurse Crowley crowds more good advice and entertainment into 15 minutes, than anyone else I've seen conducting a program of this size.

HER PROGRAM TODAY included an interview with a darling little four and a half month old baby. Since Miss Crowley was to discuss hot weather tips, when the program opened she was just finishing up bathing the baby (under the watchful eye of his mother). She explained that a little baking soda added to the water would keep baby refreshed longer after the bath.

When baby had been thoroughly dried, his mother dressed him in nothing but a diaper, upon the advice of Miss Crowley, and placed him on his back in a crib. Of course, since the rubber pants are eliminated in very hot weather (especially if the baby has prickly heat), you must be doubly sure that there is a good water resistant material between the sheet and the mattress.

NURSE CROWLEY urged mothers whose babies are suffering from prickly heat to dust them lightly with corn starch after the bath. I know myself that this is an effective remedy, since I used it on Megan at one time. However, I had to rinse her diapers several times to be sure to get out the excess starch that came off in them.

Now, as for keeping baby's room comfortable, Miss Crowley suggested keeping the blinds pulled down and also having a fan in it. Unless you have other small children, the best place for the fan is lying on the floor, so that the blades face the ceiling and circulate the air upward.

If this is impossible, then the next best place is on a high table or chest, faced so that it blows in the opposite direction from the baby, of course.

If the baby is still not relieved, you can set up a dandy little air conditioner by packing a dish pan full of ice cubes, covering it with burlap or newspaper, then letting the fan blow over it. If this final attempt to cool baby off fails, then I suggest you remove ice cubes from dish pan, put them into a glass, mix self tall, refreshing drink, sit down in front of fan, and rock baby to sleep.

My love,
Patty

Knotty Walnut

Knotty walnut is a new style note to watch. It shows signs of becoming as popular as knotty pine. Less attention is being given to pencil striped walnut veneers. More emphasis is being placed on the character marks of nature.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q. It is possible to paint faded awnings,

A. Ordinary house paint heavily thinned with turpentine is usually satisfactory. One part of turpentine to four parts of paint is about the correct proportion for thinning. Brush the paint well into the fabric.

Q. How can mildew be removed,

A. Soap and water will take off fresh mildew. Try soaking the cloth in a weak solution of ammonia and then exposing it to direct sunlight for several hours.

Q. I have been told that climbing on a roof to look for leaks is a bad idea. Is that true

A. Yes. Walking on an old roof to look for leaks often results in starting them. A better way to inspect a roof is to examine the underside of the roof deck after a rain, searching for wet spots or discoloration. If you find leaks in an old weathered roof, it's an indication that reroofing is needed. Patching an old roof is almost always futile. In reroofing, asphalt shingles generally are applied on top of the old material. This saves the expense of tearing of the worn roofing and its insulation value is retained.

Pastel Colors 'Exciting Concept'

Pastel colors are the "newest and most exciting concept" in asphalt roofing and in siding for the home, says Country Gentleman magazine.

"These colors, as well as the familiar deep tones, can be skillfully employed with trim and accent painting either to blend with the surroundings or stand out boldly from them," the publication adds.

Beatrice West, a color consultant, is quoted as listing the three important steps to remember about color:

"1. THINK OF color as a fourth dimension. For example, what optical correction does the house need? Dark colors can shrink a house; light colors can stretch it. Use bright colors to bring out attractive features. Soft blending colors will tend to hide them.

"2. Think of color as an emotional medium. Color can attract or repel. Red is exciting . . . blue is cooling . . . green is restful . . . yellow is stimulating. If a house is reserved and formal, keep color areas largely unbroken by using blending tones. To make a house gay and lively, turn toward yellows or reds for accent.

"3. THINK OF COLOR as an integrating medium. The color of the roof and siding selected for the house can determine colors used on other buildings to give a feeling of unity or cohesion."

In reference to remodeling rather than new construction, Country Gentleman says, "If your old home looks seedy and rundown at the heels, it can be given new life, beauty and serviceability at moderate cost by the application of modern roofing and siding. No matter what architectural style you have, there are materials which can be applied quickly and easily, right over the old surface."

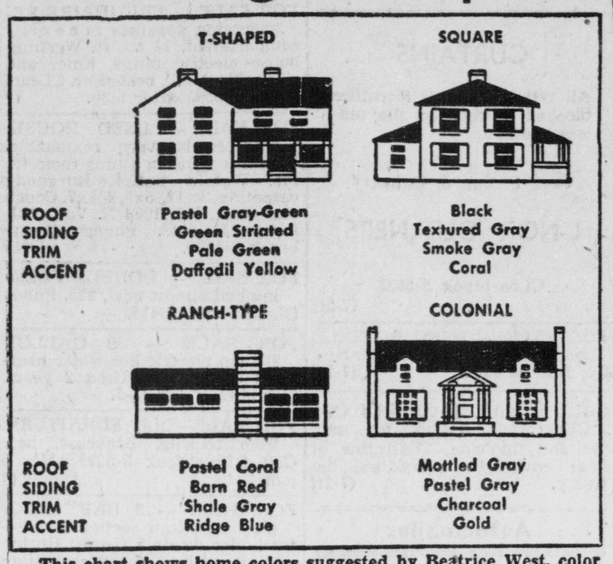
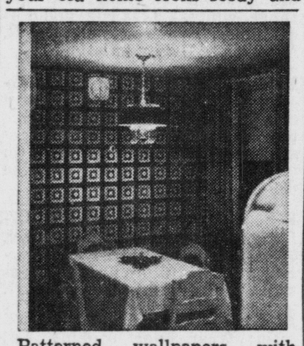
OTHER IMPORTANT advantages of asphalt roofing and asbestos-cement siding are given as fire protection and weather protection.

The magazine explains that these materials "defy the effects of rain, fog, snow, sun and wind over long periods of time. They'll tighten up your old home against the ravages of weather."



This chart shows home colors suggested by Beatrice West, color consultant. She made her choices by selecting an asphalt roofing color as the key and harmonizing other colors with it.



Patterned wallpapers with dark backgrounds which are popular for small dining areas often present a lighting problem. They do impose some restrictions in selecting lighting fixtures so its lighted appearance is not in strong contrast to the dark background.

In types suspended from the ceiling as shown in the photograph above, a fixture with an opaque metal shade will prove most comfortable.

The Light Look

The trend is toward furniture that is raised from the floor. Here case pieces are lifted from the floor by carefully tapered legs, giving a light feeling to the furniture. Brass ferrules are used on legs for decorative contrast. Footboard on bed contains storage compartment for two blankets. The wood is mahogany. Finish on group shown is called "Fawn". For those who prefer a darker finish, the same group is available in a cordovan finish. (United Furniture Corporation).

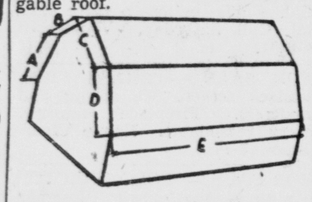
HOW TO DO IT

The area of a gambrel roof, despite its seemingly complicated shape, is just as easy to measure as the area of a simple gable roof.



The way to do it is first to measure in feet the distances indicated by A, B, C, and D on the sketch. Add these and multiply by the length of the eaves, indicated by E. This gives the total area in square feet.

To order asphalt roofing, the kind of material customarily used, divide the number of square feet by 100. This gives the number of "squares" — a square equaling the amount of roofing needed to cover 100 square feet of area. Add an extra 10 per cent to allow for waste and cutting. The result is the amount of material that should be ordered. In planning a reroofing job, remember that asphalt shingles usually can be applied without removing the old material.

Study Sale of High School Building

The Libertyville-Fremont high school board of education held a public hearing Monday to discuss possible sale of the old high school building to the Archdiocese of Chicago.

Interest has been expressed by representatives of His Eminence Samuel Cardinal Stritch in acquiring the old building for use as a parochial high school.

Lightning Strikes; Barrington Firemen Save Country Home

Lightning struck a metal cornice on the home of Chester Squires on Oak Knoll road, Barrington volunteer firemen, operating the countryside fire district equipment extinguished the blaze before there was much damage.

The department was called to put out a fire that was burning an automobile on Barrington road near the Walter Johnson farm.

The fire was caused, it was revealed, when a tire blew out and the driver attempted to throw the tire by speeding up. The tire caught fire and set fire to the car.

Crowded laundry space can be made larger by using square-shaped galvanized steel tubs. These tubs fit against a wall or side by side in a minimum of space.
